Fidel Castro

Dr. Manuel Urrutia

IN THE SADDLE — These are the two prime forces in power in Cuba now — Fidel Castro, the 32-year-old leader who masterminded the successful revolt, and Dr. Manuel Urrutia, 58, provisional president and former Cuban judge.

Havana Awaits Castro's Arrival

HAVANA (AP) — The Capital waited tensely today for the arrival of Fidel Castro. The rebel leader has announced plans for a triumphal march to Havana from his headquarters in Santiago at the other end of Cuba.

Castro's forces now completely control Cuba. Castro said in a broadcast Friday night he would be leaving for Havana shortly but did not say when.

Indications were that he would arrive shortly with his man for provisional president, Manuel Urrutia, and install him in office.

The rebels came out of the hills Friday night and assumed control of all army garrisons, government buildings and police stations in westernmost Pinar Del Rio province.

A fierce and bloody battle between rebel tanks and diehard Batista followers accompanied the occupation of Havana by Castro followers Friday. More than 40 men were believed dead and estimates of the wounded ran to 450.

Gunfire was heard in various sections of Havana during the night. Bands of gun-toting rebel youths roamed the city hunting enemies of Castro and claiming control of sections of this city of 1 1/2 million persons.

Some 600 of Castro's top fighting men arrived in Havana before dawn from Las Villas province. They were led by Ernesto Guevara, an Argentine medical doctor who as one of Castro's top lieutenants was a commander in the crucial battle of Santa Clara.

Although a general strike called by the rebels until Urrutia takes over is only 48 hours old, food is already in short supply. Some grocery stores were broken into and looted during the night in central Havana. Police were rushed to the scenes to break up raids.

Unless the strike ends and there is a halt to the violence arising out of the political situation, bloody riots may also develop. Two rebels were shot dead Friday night near the Hilton Hotel and another near the University of Havana.

Some areas of the fashionable West Side were blocked off and barricaded. Most foreigners stayed inside hotels, where the food supplies began to run low.

The strike shut down transportation except for a few taxis. Stores were closed, and it was impossible to buy many necessities.

Havana's radio warned partisans against unnecessary shooting, and the rebels declared looters would be dealt with severely. Rebel patrols tried to keep order in the streets.

Rebels kept pedestrians and automobiles from the Hotel Nacional, where many Americans were waiting for transportation home.

Four Americans, William L. Ryan, Bob Clark and James Kerlin of The Associated Press, and Robert Perez of New York, were seized by a rebel patrol while walking from the AP office to the National.

A rebel leader told them they would not be allowed to continue to the hotel because they were in danger of being shot by patrols from another rebel faction. The rebel promised escort to a nearby hotel for the night.

Three AP staffers, Larry Allen, George Kaufman and Harold Valentine, were taken from their office at gunpoint Friday. Driven to a police station, they were later released.

About 470 American tourists and vacationing students left on the ocean-going ferry City of Havana for Key West, Fla. The U.S. State Department sent the ferry because normal shipping and airline services had been canceled.

The U.S. embassy said the ferry would come back tonight for any other Americans who wanted to leave. The State Department in Washington said three U.S. destroyer escorts and two auxiliary vessels were standing by off Cuba in case of need.

An International Airline executive said Friday night that nearly all offices of foreign airlines in the city were attacked and looted by mobs during the past two days. The battle erupted Friday as Castro followers streamed into the city from all directions. Now in control of the army, the rebels poured its tanks and guns into the three-hour fight within sight of the Presidential Palace.

Holiday Traffic Fatality Toll Spurts Ahead

Friday Night Rash Brings Threat to Existing Records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The new year holiday auto toll, triggered by a relentless assault by motorists on the highways, piled up today at a bloody clip, which threatened the record for a similar four-day period two years ago.

The grim prospect that the death toll might reach the record of 409 auto fatalities for the 1956-57 new year period brought an anxious appeal from the National Safety Council for drivers to slam on the brakes and curb the toll.

As of near noon today, the national traffic death toll stood at 221. In addition, 40 have died in fires and 60 in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 321.

The NSC had predicted 390 auto deaths for the 102-hour period that started at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday. The Associated Press count ends at midnight (local time) Sunday.

An unexpected rash of highway deaths late Friday night shot the toll to a pace ahead of a corresponding count two years ago.

The NSC feared the combined Christmas and New Year total was likely to result in the stunning figure of nearly 1,000 auto deaths on the nation's roads.

Some 594 Americans paid in their lives for auto accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday. Two years ago the Christmas weekend showed 706 auto deaths, which combined with the New Year's figure, added to an all-time high of 1,115.

The Council today again pleaded for drivers to exert safety on the roads as the AP countdown headed into the weekend stretch.

A non-holiday survey by the AP for 102 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday Dec. 10 to 12 midnight Sunday Dec. 14 showed 341 traffic fatalities, 106 fire deaths, and 105 fatally injured in miscellaneous mishaps.

WASHINGTON (AP) — All airline pilots 35 and older have been ordered to take tests aimed at detecting heart disease.

The board said there have been several instances in recent years where pilots died in the cockpit in flight or just before takeoff as the result of heart attacks.

U.S. Recovery Is Established

New Year Sees Yank Economy Normal Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's economy swung triumphantly into a new year this week with recovery from recession an established fact. If you looked hard enough, you could see the faint outlines of a new boom on the far horizon.

In sharp contrast to the gloomy start of 1958, optimism was riding high.

Lewis L. Strauss, the federal government's new commerce secretary, said the new year will bring America to the threshold of a decade of prosperity unlike anything we have ever seen. In 1960-70, Strauss declared, "the impact of population increase and the continuing flood of invention and technological progress will provide unprecedented opportunities for capital investment and expanding employment and sales."

Eugene Holman, chairman of Standard Oil Co. (N. J.), said the outlook for the oil industry is much brighter than at this time last year.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of United States Steel Corp., said the nation's steel industry stands a good chance of operating at 80 percent of capacity in the next six months as compared to 74 percent in the final 1958 quarter.

Frederick R. Kappel, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., announced that the A.T.&T.'s sprawling Bell System is going to spend more than two billion dollars on construction this year. Earnings are headed up, he said, and business is expanding.

George P. Hitchings, vice president and chief economist of Ford Motor Co., predicted a 1959 U. S. market for close to six million new cars. That compares with 1958 sales of slightly more than 4 1/2 million.

Norman Strunk, vice president of the United States Savings & Loan League, said homebuilding should top the 1,125,000 private home started in 1958.

for his final decision. The public and organizations had submitted almost 2,000 suggestions.

The new flag becomes official next July 4. Officials have said it would be technically incorrect to display the new flag before then, although there will be no penalty for such use.

Admission of Alaska as the first new state since 1912 marks the formal end of the territorial status Alaska has held since 1906. It gives Alaskans control of their government for the first time, as well as a voting representation in Congress.

Sens.-elect E. L. (Bob) Bartlett and Ernest Gruening and Rep.-elect Ralph J. Rivers will take their oath of office when the 86th Congress meets Wednesday. All three are Democrats.

Alaska's entry brings into the union a rich store of timber, mineral and other resources. Its area is one-fifth that of its 48 sister states and more than twice that of Texas.

With an estimated 212,000 population — smallest of any state — Alaska also will add a new ingredient to the nation's politics. In 1960, Alaskans for the first time will cast three electoral votes for president.

Politically, the new state government will be solidly Democratic.

Alaska's quest for statehood has gone on since 1916—nearly half the period it has spent under the U.S. flag since its purchase from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000.

Soviet Aide May Ask for U.S. Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's Anastas Mikoyan is reported interested in talking over foreign policy problems with Vice President Nixon when he visits here next week.

It is highly likely that Nixon will agree to meet the Kremlin trouble shooter some time during his four or five day stay.

Mikoyan, who holds the rank of first deputy premier, is also understood to want to meet with President Eisenhower. But the White House has made no move yet to arrange such a meeting, mainly because the visit is billed as "informal." The Nixon-Mikoyan conference appears to be the most important being mentioned informally in advance of the 63-year-old Kremlin leader.

Mikoyan, accompanied by his son and five aides, is due to arrive Sunday morning in New York for a 2 to 3 week visit which includes stops in 10 major American cities.

The State Department and the Soviet embassy have joined in cloaking his schedule with an aura of mystery. This is partly due to security precautions aimed at guarding him from anti-Communist demonstrators.

Most authorities believe Mikoyan's Washington trip is connected with the Berlin crisis. Mikoyan may have been given an assignment by Premier Khrushchev to make known the Kremlin's eagerness to settle the Berlin dispute. But officials who believe this acknowledge they are only guessing.

Jugular Vein Cut Survived 18 Hours

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joseph J. Karoleski, 44, of Parma succumbed early today in a hospital—18 hours and 20 minutes after his jugular vein was severed. Doctors were surprised he had survived that long with such a condition.

Karoleski was working on a lathe in the forge plant of the Aluminum Co. of America in Cuyahoga Heights Friday when the machine hurled a sharp cylinder of metal, slicing across his neck.

A quick-thinking fellow worker, William Pagan, thrust his hand into the blood-gushing hole and pressed to slow the bleeding.

Death Proves Winner In Address Mixup

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Sarah Ann Clarruchi, 43, cut her right arm while trying to close a storm window at her home at 372 Ira Ave. early today. It began bleeding heavily, so she made a makeshift tourniquet and called police. Officers say the address they were given was 262 Ira Ave. They cruised up and down the street. When they reached the right home, Mrs. Clarruchi had bled to death.

Kremlin Says Missile To Bypass Moon

Huge Soviet Vehicle Due To Reach Luna Area at 11 Tonight

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union boasted today that its new cosmic rocket will be the "first artificial planet and a satellite of the sun."

The rocket will miss the moon, passing it at a distance of between 3,750 and 5,000 miles, Moscow Radio said.

The rocket, which was launched Friday, was still on course at 1 p. m. Moscow time (5 a. m. EST). It had traveled 130,789 miles from the earth.

The radio kept jubilant and eager Soviet citizens well informed on the progress of the rocket, furnishing some details of its travel. The moon is now about 219,000 miles from the earth. The sun is about 93 million miles away.

The Soviet government predicted the rocket will reach the vicinity of the moon about 11 p. m. EST today. The expected time of arrival in the area of the sun was not announced.

At the time when U.S. scientists thought an American moon shot would pass the moon and head toward the sun, they said the rocket probably would be burned up in the sun.

The Soviet announcement indicated otherwise. The Kremlin expects its rocket to survive the fierce heat around the center of the solar system.

There was no indication of how long Soviet scientists expect the rocket to survive as a planet.

Viktor Hozikin, director of the Moscow Planetarium, had said earlier that it was still uncertain what would be the fate of the rocket.

He described it as a "very great success," especially since it was much heavier and had traveled much farther than American attempts.

The Russians said their rocket's scientific apparatus was working normally. It was reported over northeastern Brazil at 5 a. m. EST today.

The radio said the temperature on the rocket's surface was 15 to 20 degrees centigrade—27 to 36 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Soviet government has said it will prepare to put men on the moon in a future expedition. From there flights further into space can be launched, it said.

A top Soviet scientist, Director Dimitry Martynov of the Sternberg State Astronomical Institute, said he considers the rocket "a true last rehearsal for the real cosmic journey . . . a stage toward interplanetary journeys has been really achieved . . ."

The Red rocket to the sun has already gone farther than the best of four unsuccessful U.S. attempts to reach the moon.

The 85-pound U.S. Air Force moon probe Pioneer 3 soared 71,300 miles before errors of launching angle and propulsion speed caused it to fall back.

The moon will be about 219,000 miles from the earth at the time the Soviet government says its rocket will get there.

The Russian "cosmic ship" weighs about 3,239 pounds without fuel," Moscow Radio reported.

The Russians have long talked about setting up space stations in orbit around the earth as the launching point for travels farther into the solar system. The weight of their moon rocket indicates they can now send up a vehicle large enough to carry a man.

But the government did not specify when it would set up an expedition to the moon. No details of the preparations were given.

Even before the rocket had time to leave the earth's atmosphere, the government proclaimed it "the first successful inter-planetary flight."

They described the space device as a multistage rocket with a Soviet flag and the legend "U.S.S.R., January 1959" in the nose.

There was no mention of the overall weight, including the first stages that burned out and dropped off to allow the 3,239-pound final stage to rifle on through space. The space vehicle was reported to contain 796 1/2 pounds of instruments. Its dimensions were not given.

It also carried special equipment to create the sodium cloud of an artificial comet, Moscow Radio said.

Without specifying where it took off, the rocket was reported to have flashed eastward across the

Cosmic Rocket Appears Success

NEW YORK (AP) — Today should tell the secret of Russia's stunning cosmic rocket.

It appears destined for prodigious success in any of three great achievements. The Soviets tantalized the world by not disclosing the objective of this moon-hunter bearing pennants reading "U.S.S.R. January 1959."

Judging from the array of instruments aboard, the goal seemed to be to send the rocket around the moon, once or many times, broadcasting back precious information about the moon and space. This would give the greatest scientific rewards.

But the rocket could also strike the moon, in a smash hit just before midnight (EST) tonight, or perhaps land gently on the moon through use of backward-firing rocket brakes.

Or it could swing beyond the moon, coming closer for revealing observations, then wheeling on to become a captive of the sun — the first man-made planet.

Soviet announcements clearly indicate the rocket has the speed to do any of these — speed enough to escape the earth's effective gravity and then be beckoned into or around the moon or to whip on by.

The Russians say nothing definitely about the exact course.

They perhaps are not yet certain. But this lack of word also lays them open to the suspicion that whatever happens, they can say that was the goal.

Repeatedly, Soviet scientists have remarked to foreign scientists:

"We do not brag about our plans in advance. We do something, then we tell everything."

Western scientists are sure of the first point, less certain that they are told everything they would like to know.

Instruments aboard the Soviet rocket are designed to tell a fascinating story about space from the earth to moon and about the moon itself.

Particularly interesting are instruments to measure the moon's magnetic field and its radioactivity.

The earth's magnetism is thought to arise from its hot fluid or plastic core, which generates strong electric and magnetic currents. Scientists have wondered if the moon's core is similar. Was the moon formed about the same time and in the same way, from collapsing clouds of gases?

Radioactivity of the moon could also tell scientists something about its history and how such a celestial body is affected by the sun and cosmic rays when it lacks a protective atmosphere.

Other instruments measuring cosmic rays, gases in space, and solar radiation could fill in voids in man's knowledge of events far beyond the range of present satellites, Russian or American.

A Moscow broadcast says the launching opens the way to using the moon as an astronomical observatory, or a way station in space for travelers on long trips to Mars or other planets.

Just reaching the moon truly would be an opening step. But first must come effective means of getting space travelers there and back. The Russians are progressing logically and stepwise toward getting man into space.

U.S. Trackers Ignore Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) America's space tracking outpost here sat idle Friday night, making no attempt to track Russia's rocket to the moon.

"You would think we would be asked to track it," said Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the Air Force missile test center, "but we weren't."

Government Aid Eyed for Mining Town

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — The fate of this town of tragedy is in the balance.

The Canadian and Nova Scotia governments are trying to find an answer. Springhill's 7,000 residents are impatient to learn what's to become of them.

Mayor Ralph Gilroy in two years has guided the citizens through two mine tragedies — total dead 114 — and a 1 1/2 million dollar fire in the town's business district. Confident that Springhill will recover, he says:

"The governments are doing everything in their power. By spring we'll have an industry. We will recover and maybe be a better Springhill for it."

About 800 coal miners, unemployed since the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. shut down the last of its mines here, want work. Scores, perhaps hundreds, would rather leave than exist on relief.

Little real hardship is expected until spring when unemployment benefits begin running out.

The disaster relief pension will likely be about that given widows of 39 men killed in a 1956 mine explosion—$29 a month plus $10 for the youngest child and $5 for each additional child under 18.

U.S. Ponders New Challenge

Congressmen Demand More Moon Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's hammer-and-sickle decorated rocket rushed toward the moon today, leaving in its trail another major challenge for the United States in the battle of space prestige.

A congressional demand for more American moon shots came shortly before the Russians reported their rocket had streaked farther into space than any man-made object has ever gone before.

The Russians say their "cosmic ship" weighs about 3,239 pounds without fuel. A British scientist estimated the weight of all rocket stages at an astounding 250 tons.

Moscow Radio termed the Russian moon probe, launched Friday, "the first successful inter-planetary flight." Scientists throughout the world tended to agree.

The Soviet rocket, which glowed like an artificial comet at times, may prod U.S. officials into accepting a House Space Committee proposal to rush more shots at the moon.

The Air Force and the Army have tried to strike the moon or shoot a rocket beyond it four times. The closest they came was 71,300 miles into space — or about one third of the way to the moon.

The Russians say their rocket zoomed past that mark early today.

The Soviets said the rocket had reached "second cosmic speed." This has been described as the speed needed to send a space ship from earth to a planet.

Even before the Soviet announcement of the launching, the House Space Committee urged the Air Force Friday to make two more attempts to hit the moon. A new try by the Army already has been scheduled, possibly for early next month.

An official of the Defense Department's advanced Research Projects Agency said it had learned of the Russian probe attempt before Moscow Radio's announcement. The timing of the House committee's unanimous resolution and the Soviet announcement, however, appeared to be a coincidence.

The Russian rocket is expected to add urgency to the committee's proposal.

Nepal Royalty OKs Ohio Girl as Bride

NEW YORK (AP) — The royal family of Nepal has approved the marriage plans of Prince Basundhara Bir Bikram Shah and a Cleveland, Ohio, girl.

An announcement Friday from the Nepal United Nations headquarters said in part: "His Royal Highness has been told by the Queen mothers of Nepal that they have no objection to his marrying Miss Lynn Waldron of Pepper Pike (a Cleveland suburb), Ohio."

Miss Waldron, 22, has been in New York pending publication of a book about her foreign travels. She met the prince during a stay in Katmandu, capital of Nepal.

George P. Hitchings, vice president and chief economist of Ford Motor Co., predicted a 1959 U. S. market for close to six million new cars. That compares with 1958 sales of slightly more than 4½ million.

Norman Strunk, vice president of the United States Savings & Loan League, said homebuilding should top the 1,125,000 private home starts in 1958.

The State Department and the Soviet embassy have joined in cloaking his schedule with an aura of mystery. This is partly due to security precautions aimed at guarding him from anti-Communist demonstrators.

Most authorities believe Mikoyan's Washington trip is connected with the Berlin crisis. Mikoyan may have been given an assignment by Premier Khrushchev to make known the Kremlin's eagerness to settle the Berlin dispute. But officials who believe this acknowledge they are only guessing.

Hungarian Lochinvar Is Jailed by Reds

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary has jailed a swindler for promising marriage to 14 girls.

"They loved me, I loved them," Nandor Rudolf told the court.

Rudolf usually represented himself as a well-paid miner. He met his girls in Budapest bars or at vacation resorts.

for his final decision. The public and organizations had submitted almost 2,000 suggestions.

The new flag becomes official next July 4. Officials have said it would be technically incorrect to display the new flag before then, although there will be no penalty for such use.

Admission of Alaska as the first new state since 1912 marks the formal end of the territorial status Alaska has held since 1906. It gives Alaskans control of their government for the first time, as well as a voting representation in Congress.

Sens-elect E. L. (Bob) Bartlett and Ernest Gruening and Representative Ralph J. Rivers will take their oath of office when the 86th Congress meets Wednesday. All three are Democrats.

Alaska's entry brings into the union a rich store of timber, mineral and other resources. Its area is one-fifth that of its 48 sister states and more than twice that of Texas.

With an estimated 212,000 population — smallest of any state — Alaska also will add a new ingredient to the nation's politics. In 1960, Alaskans for the first time will cast three electoral votes for president.

Politically, the new state government will be solidly Democratic.

Alaska's quest for statehood has gone on since 1916—nearly half the period it has spent under the U.S. flag since its purchase from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000.

Soviet Aide May Ask for U.S. Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's Anastas Mikoyan is reported interested in talking over foreign policy problems with Vice President Nixon when he visits here next week.

It is highly likely that Nixon will agree to meet the Kremlin trouble shooter some time during his four or five day stay.

Mikoyan, who holds the rank of first deputy premier, is also understood to want to meet with President Eisenhower. But the White House has made no move yet to arrange such a meeting, mainly because the visit is billed as "informal." The Nixon-Mikoyan conference appears to be the most important being mentioned informally in advance of the 63-year-old Kremlin leader.

Mikoyan, accompanied by his son and five aides, is due to arrive Sunday morning in New York for a 2 to 3 week visit which includes stops in 10 major American cities.

The Red rocket to the sun has already gone farther than the best of four unsuccessful U.S. attempts to reach the moon.

The 85-pound U.S. Air Force moon probe Pioneer I soared 71,300 miles before errors of launching angle and propulsion speed caused it to fall back.

The moon will be about 219,000 miles from the earth at the time the Soviet government says its rocket will get there.

The Russian "cosmic ship" weighs about 3,239 pounds without fuel," Moscow Radio reported.

The Russians have long talked about setting up space stations in orbit around the earth as the launching point for travels farther into the solar system. The weight of their moon rocket indicates they can now send up a vehicle large enough to carry a man.

But the government did not specify when it would set up an expedition to the moon. No details of the preparations were given.

Even before the rocket had time to leave the earth's atmosphere, the government proclaimed it "the first successful inter-planetary flight."

They described the space device as a multistage rocket with a Soviet flag and the legend "U.S.S.R., January 1959" in the nose.

There was no mention of the overall weight, including the first stages that burned out and dropped off to allow the 3,239-pound final stage to rifle on through space. The space vehicle was reported to contain 796½ pounds of instruments. Its dimensions were not given.

It also carried special equipment to create the sodium cloud of an artificial comet, Moscow Radio said.

Kremlin Says Missile To Bypass Moon

Huge Soviet Vehicle Due To Reach Luna Area at 11 Tonight

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union boasted today that its new cosmic rocket will be the "first artificial planet and a satellite of the sun."

The rocket will miss the moon, passing it at a distance of between 3,750 and 5,000 miles, Moscow Radio said.

The rocket, which was launched Friday, was still on course at 1 p. m. Moscow time (5 a. m. EST). It had traveled 130,789 miles from the earth.

The radio kept jubilant and eager Soviet citizens well informed on the progress of the rocket, furnishing some details of its travel.

The moon is now about 219,000 miles from the earth. The sun is about 93 million miles away.

The Soviet government predicted the rocket will reach the vicinity of the moon about 11 p. m. EST today. The expected time of arrival in the area of the sun was not announced.

At the time when U.S. scientists thought an American moon shot would pass the moon and head toward the sun, they said the rocket probably would be burned up in the sun.

The Soviet announcement indicated otherwise. The Kremlin expects its rocket to survive the fierce heat around the center of the solar system.

There was no indication of how long Soviet scientists expect the rocket to survive as a planet.

Viktor Hozkin, director of the Moscow Planetarium, had said earlier that it was still uncertain what would be the fate of the rocket.

He described it as a "very great success," especially since it was much heavier and had traveled much farther than American attempts.

The Russians said their rocket's scientific apparatus was working normally. It was reported over northeastern Brazil at 5 a. m. EST today.

The radio said the temperature on the rocket's surface was 15 to 20 degrees centigrade—27 to 36 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Soviet government has said it will prepare to put men on the moon in a future expedition. From there flights further into space can be launched, it said.

A top Soviet scientist, Director Dmitry Martynov of the Sternberg State Astronomical Institute, said he considers the rocket "a true last rehearsal for the real cosmic journey... a stage toward interplanetary journeys has been really achieved."

The Red rocket to the sun has already gone farther than the best of four unsuccessful U.S. attempts to reach the moon.

Cosmic Rocket Appears Success

NEW YORK (AP) — Today should tell the secret of Russia's stunning cosmic rocket.

It appears destined for prodigious success in any of three great achievements. The Soviets tantalized the world by not disclosing the objective of this moon-hunter bearing pennants — reading "U.S.S.R., January 1959."

Judging from the array of instruments aboard, the goal seemed to be to send the rocket around the moon, once or many times, broadcasting back precious information about the moon and space. This would give the greatest scientific rewards.

But the rocket could also strike the moon, in a smash hit just before midnight (EST) tonight, or perhaps land gently on the moon through use of backward-firing rocket brakes.

Or it could swing beyond the moon, coming closer for revealing observations, then wheeling on to become a captive of the sun — the first man-made planet.

Soviet announcements clearly indicate the rocket has the speed to do any of these — speed enough to escape the earth's effective gravity and then be beckoned into or around the moon or to whip on by.

The Russians say nothing definitely about the exact course.

They perhaps are not yet certain. But this lack of word also lays them open to the suspicion that whatever happens, they can say that was the goal.

Repeatedly, Soviet scientists have remarked to foreign scientists:

"We do not brag about our plans in advance. We do something, then we tell everything."

Western scientists are sure of the first point, less certain that they are told everything they would like to know.

Instruments aboard the Soviet rocket are designed to tell a fascinating story about space from the earth to moon and about the moon itself.

Particularly interesting are instruments to measure the moon's magnetic field and its radioactivity.

The earth's magnetism is thought to arise from its hot fluid or plastic core, which generates strong electric and magnetic currents. Scientists have wondered if the moon's core is similar. Was the moon formed about the same time and in the same way, from collapsing clouds of gases?

Radioactivity of the moon could also tell scientists something about its history and how such a celestial body is affected by the sun and cosmic rays when it lacks a protective atmosphere.

Other instruments measuring cosmic rays, gases in space, and solar radiation could fill in voids in man's knowledge of events far beyond the range of present satellites, Russian or American.

A Moscow broadcast says the launching opens the way to using the moon as an astronomical observatory, or a way station in space for travelers on long trips to mars or other planets.

Just reaching the moon truly would be an opening step. But first must come effective means of getting space travelers there and back. The Russians are progressing logically and stepwise toward getting man into space.

U.S. Trackers Ignore Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) America's space tracking outpost here sat idle Friday night, making no attempt to track Russia's rocket to the moon.

"You would think we would be asked to track it," said Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the Air Force missile test center, "but we weren't."

The Canadian and Nova Scotia governments are trying to find an answer. Springfield's 7,000 residents are impatient to learn what's to become of them.

Mayor Ralph Gilroy in two years has guided the citizens through two mine tragedies — total dead 114 — and a 1½ million dollar fire in the town's business district. Confident that Springfield will recover, he says:

"The governments are doing everything in their power. By spring we'll have an industry. We will recover and maybe be a better Springfield for it."

About 800 coal miners, unemployed since the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. shut down the last of its mines here, want work. Scores, perhaps hundreds, would rather leave than exist on relief.

Little real hardship is expected until spring when unemployment benefits begin running out.

The disaster relief pension will likely be about that given widows of 39 men killed in a 1956 mine explosion—$20 a month plus $10 for the youngest child and $5 for each additional child under 18.

Building Bids Asked

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — The U. S. Engineers today asked for bids on the construction of a communications building at the Clinton County Air Force Base at Wilmington, Ohio.

Slav Woman Fights U.S. Deportation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pretty Mrs. Nina Caldarevic, 21, who came here in August, 1957 from Yugoslavia on a year's visa, is lobbying desperately for a private bill in the coming U.S. Congress.

She wants a bill to save her from deportation, along with her 3-year-old son Dudo. Their deportation to Yugoslavia is scheduled for next Thursday.

Last February her husband Zalko came here from Zagreb to take her home. That was two months before the birth of their daughter Marina, who would be allowed to stay in this country, since her birth makes her a citizen.

When Mrs. Caldarevic refused to leave her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Zuk of Cleveland, her husband returned to Zagreb alone. After he got there, she said, he divorced her.

Weeping, Mrs. Caldarevic appealed Friday to Rep. Charles Vanik, but he could not help her, he said, because she is not from his district. She lives in the district of Rep. Michael A. Feighan to whom she told her story several weeks ago. Sunday, she said, she will try to contact Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

DiSalle Plans Parley with Health Chief

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle says he plans to meet here Monday with Dr. Robert A. Haines to discuss possible splitting of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two separate agencies. Haines is department director.

DiSalle has said his proposal calls for one agency to supervise the state's mental health program and the other to control correctional institutions.

DiSalle said Friday he also plans to review each state department after he takes office Jan. 12. The review he said, will include the operation of Ohio Penitentiary and the Division of Correction.

But he emphasized that the review will not be aimed at individuals unless the study points to a deficiency in the system.

Mrs. Lloyd Bowdle, a medical patient in Chillicothe Hospital, has been returned to her home Route 1, Clarksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Clary, Adelphi, are the parents of a daughter born Friday in Chillicothe hospital. The baby weighed 6 pounds and 11 1/4 ounces.

Eloise Beauty Salon, 512 S. Court St., will be closed from January 3rd thru January 17th.

Mrs. Maim Fletcher has been discharged from Chillicothe Hospital to her home in Clarksburg.

Terry Hull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hull, will dance on the Jack Sherrick television show held at noon Sunday.

County Donors Given Urgent Blood Appeal

The Pickaway County Chapter Office of the American Red Cross today received a special appeal for blood from Carl Braley, Director of the Columbus Regional Blood Center.

Braley reminded County residents of the grave importance of the Monday visit of the Bloodmobile here. Due to the two holiday weeks, the operation of both the center and the mobile units have been curtailed.

But the need for blood has been greater than ever, thus causing the supply to drop to a dangerously low level. Braley stated that there is an especially great need for negative blood in all the types.

There was a higher usage of the negative types during this holiday season than usual. He stressed the fact that it is vital that the Monday visit be successful.

THE DWINDLING supply of blood at the center must be replenished, Braley stated. The unit will be at First Methodist Church from 11 a. m. till 5 p. m.

Montford Kirkwood Jr., Pickaway County Chairman of Blood Program, reminded friends and relatives of patients, who have received blood, that they may replace it at any visit of the Bloodmobile.

They should be sure to give the information to the persons in charge of the registration desk, including the name and address of the patient and the name of the hospital.

The family of John Hunt, who has been seriously ill in University Hospital, Columbus, have been informed that he will require further surgery in a few weeks and will need more blood transfusions.

Hunt has A-positive blood, which is one of the rarer types, but blood designated for replacement need not be the same type.

Beggar-Wife Faces Hearing For Slaying

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A first-degree murder indictment will be sought against a woman who says she killed her husband because he forced her to beg for food for their six children.

Warren County Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite said Mrs. Pauline Collins, 32, of nearby Franklin, admitted shooting her husband Joe, 48, in the back Friday night.

County Prosecutor Fred E. Jones said he will ask the county grand jury, which meets Monday, for the indictment.

Mrs. Collins is being held without charge.

Investigators quoted her as saying the shooting was the climax of long arguments and that she had been forced to beg for food for their six children because Collins refused to give her any money.

Jones said Mrs. Collins told him she bought two shotguns Dec. 22 and hid them under a mattress with the idea of killing her husband "if he ever came at me again."

Mrs. Gean Perry, Mrs. Collins' sister, and the Collins' son Ernest, 18, witnessed the shooting. Jones said they told him there had been no argument preceding the shooting and that Mrs. Collins merely went to the bedroom, got the 20-gauge shotgun, poked it through the door and shot her husband in the back.

The two witnesses told Jones they always had enough to eat until after Collins returned from a Christmas visit to Tennessee and that since then "there hadn't been much food in the house."

They said there had been some arguments lately between Collins and his wife over the time she was spending at a neighbor's house. Mrs. Collins had been cooking and keeping house for a neighbor man and his two children.

Ernest Collins and John Perry, 30, husband of Mrs. Gean Perry, said they, along with Joe Collins, had been out most of the day trying to trade Collins' automobile for another one and cash "because Joe wanted to get money to buy food for us."

Rainfall Totals 37 Inches in '58

The Pickaway County area finished the year 1958 with a loss of rainfall off the normal yearly 2.12 inches of rainfall off the normal yearly precipitation chart.

A total of 37.74 inches of rain fell in the county during 1958, while normal rainfall is 39.86 inches. During the previous year 1957 a total of 39.10 inches of rain fell. During December 1958, 1.24 inches of rain fell upon the county, 1.49 inches off the monthly average. A total of 0.53 inches of rain fell December 31 to offset the almost drought month.

Solons Unsworn, But Getting Paid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the first session of the 86th Congress will not get under way until Wednesday, the terms of all the House members and of the newly elected Senators start as of noon today.

Members go on the payroll automatically at that time, although they will not be sworn in and able to vote until after ceremonies at the opening session on Wednesday.

The Constitution fixes noon of Jan. 3 for the start of the terms of newly-elected members of Congress. It also sets this as the time for starting the new session, but permits Congress to provide otherwise.

Kremlin Says

Soviet Union, climbed above the Hawaiian Islands and was moving away from the earth over the Pacific Ocean.

The rocket was sent up at "the second cosmic speed" of 11.2 kilometers (about 7 miles) a second, the speed needed to break away from the earth's gravitation, the Russians said. A slower first cosmic speed only gets an object into orbit around the earth.

There was nothing to indicate any living thing was in the rocket. Some of the instruments reported to be aboard measured the earth's magnetic field, radioactivity, gas components of interplanetary matter and the intensity of cosmic rays.

Radio technicians in the west who lacked the Soviet code to interpret the rocket's radio signals said they had a high-pitched tone of varying frequency. The rocket was transmitting on three wave lengths. One transmitter was sending on 19.97 and 19.95 megahertz, the second on 19.93 megahertz and the third on 183.6 megahertz. A megahertz is a unit of electrical radio waves similar to the megacycle.

Land at Lake Open for Game

According to Pickaway County Game Protector Clarence Francis, all state land surrounding Hargus Creek Memorial Lake will be open for rabbit and pheasant hunting until January 15.

Francis issued a special reminder that game may be taken only on state land which covers about 200 acres at the lake site. Hunting on other property will constitute a game violation, he added.

The game protector pointed out that much of the lake area land is not marked by fence boundaries. It will be the hunter's responsibility to make sure that he is hunting on state property, he said.

Regular pheasant season here ended December 6. Today is the last day for regular rabbit season.

EARY, THESE BUNNIES — These two female rabbits showed up in the Claude Holbrook hutch in Evansville, Ind., equipped with only one ear each, right in the middle of their hairy foreheads.

Florida Blends Sun, Cash

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER
Written for Central Press

The seeds of expansion are burgeoning in Florida. Everywhere you look something is growing in a fertile mixture of climate and cash. There are more oranges, more factories and more people all over the state than ever before. And room is being made for still more.

It's boom-time on the peninsula, with nobody even breathing thoughts of a set-back like the real estate bubble of the mid-twenties. Investors say the perils of paper manipulation were never to be repeated lessons learned in the collapse of more than 30 years ago.

Florida has three great assets—two of them the gifts of nature (sun and water) and one man-made (transportation by land, sea and air). This time this happy combination has been planted in the rich, economic soil of agriculture, industry and tourists. With money as the fertilizer—not promises and hopes.

A rich harvest is being realized. Vacations are arriving at the rate of six million a year and leaving behind more than $1 billion. Bricklayers and stone-masons and riveters have speckled the state with 5,000 factories, boosting output 500 per cent since 1939 while the nation as a whole was gaining only 400 per cent. Citrus groves are yielding an all-time high of $200 million a year and farm income is up generally, while elsewhere in the United States it's down.

People are going to Florida now to stay. They are settling at the rate of 2,700 a week, which puts the state's percentage growth of population above California's.

THE 1950 CENSUS showed 2,771,305 persons in Florida. However, by 1975, Florida will have close to 6,500,000 people, according to some calculators.

Construction is going on up and down the state to give the new residents places to live and work. It's in the same class with the tourist business—a $1 billion investment, from the 41,000 new homes started in the first nine months of 1955 to the $10 million, 22-story Jacksonville headquarters of an insurance company and the $20 million brewery at Tampa.

Climate is the principal attraction of Florida, but the way it's working out now it's a magnet for business as well as people. Industrialists can cut costs because there's no investment for heat. Water is available everywhere—not just in the ocean. Florida has more deep-water ports—thirteen—than any other state, and that makes for cheap shipping. Grain comes to Tampa by water all the way from Minneapolis.

Florida also has thousands of lakes, innumerable streams and, under the soil, porous limestone that sponges and stores a quarter of the annual rainfall. Springs provide a flow of 3.6 billion gallons a day.

Water is a necessity for manufacturing, and Florida has plenty of it. The state's expanding paper, pulp and chemical industries are thirsty customers. The phosphate industry, providing 75 per cent of all phosphates in the U. S. uses 75 million gallons a day.

Florida is proud of its fast-growing chemical industry.

The big business is in land, but not the way it was in the twenties. Then buyers paid 10 per cent down and promised 25 per cent more in 30 days. However, trying to make a quick profit, they sold their "binders" even before the first payment was due. Few people built, and those who tried to couldn't get materials because the single-track Florida East Coast railroad couldn't carry the orders.

Today, it's different. Builders are building. As the Miami Beach boom tapers off, as it's bound to do unless another island is dredged up from Biscayne bay, the Florida boosters look for more attention to the Gulf coast and the hinterland.

Miami is humming with real estate transactions. Choice residential property there is bringing as much as $10,000 to $20,000 an acre. Industrial sites are quoted at $3,000 to $5,000 an acre. Housing projects, of course, go hand in hand with industrial construction.

Florida has no state income tax. Its government is supported mainly through excise taxes—sales, gasoline, auto license, cigarettes, pari-mutuels and intoxicants. That kind of state financing is, of course, attractive to businessmen because the consumer pays. There hasn't been a state tax increase since 1947.

County Donors Given Urgent Blood Appeal

The Pickaway County Chapter Office of the American Red Cross today received a special appeal for blood from Carl Braley, Director of the Columbus Regional Blood Center.

Braley reminded County residents of the grave importance of the Monday visit of the Bloodmobile here. Due to the two holiday weeks, the operation of both the center and the mobile units have been curtailed.

But the need for blood has been greater than ever, thus causing the supply to drop to a dangerously low level. Braley stated that there is an especially great need for negative blood in all the types.

There was a higher usage of the negative types during this holiday season than usual. He stressed the fact that it is vital that the Monday visit be successful.

THE DWINDLING supply of blood at the center must be replenished, Braley stated. The unit will be at First Methodist Church from 11 a. m. till 5 p. m.

Montford Kirkwood Jr., Pickaway County Chairman of Blood Program, reminded friends and relatives of patients, who have received blood, that they may replace it at any visit of the Bloodmobile.

They should be sure to give the information to the persons in charge of the registration desk, including the name and address of the patient and the name of the hospital.

The family of John Hunt, who has been seriously ill in University Hospital, Columbus, have been informed that he will require further surgery in a few weeks and will need more blood transfusions.

Hunt has A-positive blood, which is one of the rarer types, but blood designated for replacement need not be the same type.

Beggar-Wife Faces Hearing For Slaying

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A first-degree murder indictment will be sought against a woman who says she killed her husband because he forced her to beg for food for their six children.

Warren County Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite said Mrs. Pauline Collins, 32, of nearby Franklin, admitted shooting her husband Joe, 48, in the back Friday night.

County Prosecutor Fred E. Jones said he will ask the county grand jury, which meets Monday, for the indictment.

Mrs. Collins is being held without charge.

Investigators quoted her as saying the shooting was the climax of long arguments and that she had been forced to beg for food for their six children because Collins refused to give her any money. Jones said Mrs. Collins told him she bought two shotgun shells Dec. 22 and hid them under a mattress with the idea of killing her husband "if he ever came at me again."

Mrs. Gean Perry, Mrs. Collins' sister, and the Collins' son Ernest, 18, witnessed the shooting. Jones said they told him there had been no argument preceding the shooting and that Mrs. Collins merely went to the bedroom, got the 20-gauge shotgun, poked it through the door and shot her husband in the back.

The two witnesses told Jones they always had enough to eat until after Collins returned from a Christmas visit to Tennessee and that since then "there hadn't been much food in the house."

They said there had been some arguments lately between Collins and his wife over the time she was spending at a neighbor's house. Mrs. Collins had been cooking and keeping house for a neighbor man and his two children.

Ernest Collins and John Perry, 30, husband of Mrs. Gean Perry, said they, along with Joe Collins, had been out most of the day trying to trade Collins' automobile for another one and cash "because Joe wanted to get money to buy food for us."

During December 1958, 1.24 inches of rain fell upon the county, 1.49 inches off the monthly average. A total of 0.53 inches of rain fell December 31 to offset the almost drought month.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the first session of the 86th Congress will not get under way until Wednesday, the terms of all the House members and of the newly elected Senators start as of noon today.

The Constitution fixes noon of Jan. 3 for the start of the terms of newly-elected members of Congress. It also sets this as the time for starting the new session, but permits Congress to provide otherwise.

Soviet Union, climbed above the Hawaiian Islands and was moving away from the earth over the Pacific Ocean.

The rocket was sent up at "the second cosmic speed" of 11.2 kilometers (about 7 miles) a second, the speed needed to break away from the earth's gravitation, the Russians said. A slower first cosmic speed only gets an object into orbit around the earth.

There was nothing to indicate any living thing was in the rocket.

Some of the instruments reported to be aboard measured the earth's magnetic field, radioactivity, gas components of interplanetary matter and the intensity of cosmic rays.

Radio technicians in the west who lacked the Soviet code to interpret the rocket's radio signals said they had a high-pitched tone of varying frequency. The rocket was transmitting on three wave lengths. One transmitter was sending on 19,997 and 19,995 megahertz, the second on 19,993 megahertz and the third on 183.6 megahertz. A megahertz is a unit of electrical radio waves similar to the megacycle.

Land at Lake Open for Game

According to Pickaway County Game Protector Clarence Francis, all state land surrounding Hargus Creek Memorial Lake will be open for rabbit and pheasant hunting until January 15.

Francis issued a special reminder that game may be taken only on state land which covers about 200 acres at the lake site. Hunting on other property will constitute a game violation, he added.

The game protector pointed out that much of the lake area is not marked by fence boundaries. It will be the hunter's responsibility to make sure that he is hunting on state property, he said.

Regular pheasant season here ended December 6. Today is the last day for regular rabbit season.

Florida Blends Sun, Cash

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER

The seeds of expansion are burgeoning in Florida. Everywhere you look something is growing in a fertile mixture of climate and cash. There are more oranges, more factories and more people all over the state than ever before. And room is being made for still more.

It's boom-time on the peninsula, with nobody even breathing thoughts of a set-back like the real estate bubble of the mid-twenties. Investors say the perils of paper manipulation were never to be repeated lessons learned in the collapse of more than 30 years ago.

It's now just Brunn. Stinkenbrunn dates back to the 13th century. A local well's waters had a bad odor and a sour taste from nearby lignite deposits. Now the coal is gone and the water's pure.

Men Ignore Waves Of Locked-in Woman

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The man didn't get excited because a woman was waving her arms and yelling for help from the 14th floor of City Hall. He calmly walked away.

A second man saw her. He waved back.

Finally, a woman saw her and called police, who ended her 45-minute ordeal.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Time To Tame the Bear

Current among the most popular games of the diplomatic set, and gaining greater favor among lay followers of the international tug of war, is trying to guess what the Russians will do when their self-imposed six month Berlin deadline expires on June 1. Perhaps even more fascinating is trying to predict what the western powers will do to counteract the Soviet moves.

This has become known as the game of "if" because no one, including the Russians, apparently knows what the first move will be. The first "if" revolves around the improbability that the Kremlin will actually turn full authority over to the East German regime as the reds have said they will. Most political analysts agree the East German citizens would overthrow the puppet government installed by Moscow if it were not for Soviet armies standing to crush the revolts which have materialized periodically.

Next on the list of "ifs" and the possible remedies therefore is the remote possibility that East Germany will clamp a total air and ground blockade on West Berlin in the mistaken belief the Western Allies will negotiate directly with and grant full recognition to the outlaw red government rather than risk all - out war. Both Secretary of State Dulles and NATO's supreme warned that any such maneuver will be commander, General Norstadt, have met with a blockade-busting military force employing, if necessary, nuclear weapons.

From here on speculation centers on what type of blockade or harassment the communists will impose, with the conclusion foregone that there will be some type of unpleasantness. Partial blockades receive the highest degree of credulity among the speculators. These range from blockades of strictly military supplies to allied garrisons in Berlin to restrictions on supplies for the civilian populace.

The latter would be designed to demoralize the civilian population to the point where it would welcome trading with East Germany.

There may be some macabre fascination in trying to outguess the Russian designs on Berlin and the consequences of whatever action they might take, but it would be more reassuring to the free world to be able to state unequivocally that the United States, Great Britain and France have no intention, whatever scheme the communists may devise, of deserting for one day the free people of West Berlin.

Strong convictions, stern warnings and a big stick should replace the weak game of reacting to the bear's growl.

Queen Knows When To Leave

The Queen, Lor' love 'er, seems to know that even royalty can wear out its welcome, especially at a Christmas party for the help at Buckingham Palace.

They'd the very dazzer of a party at the palace the other day, with a pint o' mild for every hand, a bit of sherry for them as has the taste for it, and like as not shandygaff for folks who'll have nought of strong spirits.

Nothing stronger, mind you, since it was whispered about that her majesty might drop by for a bit of a dance and such, which she did that, kind love that she is.

There she was, the prince and the princess with her and all; big as life and dancing, joking and chatting away like as they was one of the folks, which, of course, they are, the dears.

Queen Elizabeth stayed just long enough, joined in the cha cha for which she was called, and slipped away with the observation that "I'll let them let their hair down now." Following which queenly gesture they probably did just that.

European Money Steadier

Europe seems to be coming to its senses economically and although such matters are always difficult to work out, once the European countries get on the right track again, they will find the answer to many fiscal problems.

The last time they tried to solve these particular problems by concerted action was in 1933 at the London Economic Conference which was an effort to save Europe from many of the disasters that have occurred since then. That Conference, it will be recalled, was torpedoed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt who went off on a ship with Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and became incommunicado when the President was most needed. It is said that he and Henry Morgenthau, Jr., clipped coins to form decisions over the gold content of the dollar, or so Morgenthau reported subsequently.

At any rate, here we are 25 years and two wars later and the Europeans have at long last solved one of their principal economic questions themselves, namely, convertibility. There is a long word for a simple process: if you live in London and have pounds and you want to buy a case of wine in Paris, your problem is to get francs. Up to now, that presented quite a problem because the British Treasury had to decide whether and when you could use your pounds for that purpose and the French government would have to decide whether it wanted more pounds or would prefer for you to change your pounds into dollars first and buy the case of wine using dollars.

Lack of convertibility made trade difficult in every case. The real trouble was that each country wanted dollars, the one absolutely stable currency in foreign exchange. And the reason that the American dollar was stable was not, as some think, because our government was sound, which it has not been for many years, but because we possessed a gold supply which served to give our dollars a 25 per cent guarantee, which was better than that of any other money.

Over the years, other nations have accumulated gold and most of that which is in the United States is earmarked for foreign countries and can be used by them to support their currencies.

Fever Still a Mystery

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Fever ranks second only to pain as the most common indication of illness.

Yet, despite its frequency, we doctors often don't completely understand what causes fever or where it starts.

Simply reducing the fever doesn't always mean that you are combating the disease or that the patient is getting well. In fact, the underlying disease may not be affected by the reduction of the temperature.

You must have specific treatment aimed at the specific illness. However, in many cases, control of the fever is essential.

For some illnesses we have no special therapy. In others, the required treatment may take several days. In such instances, the fever must be controlled.

Several times in the past, I have urged you to take the temperature of every member of your family while they are healthy and keep a record of it. That is about the only way you can establish each individual member's normal temperature.

Everyone, you see, doesn't have the traditional 98.6 degree temperature as his own particular normal temperature.

Infants and children, for example, often are perfectly healthy with temperatures running between 97 and 100 degrees. Youngsters generally have a temperature range far greater than adults.

During an illness, a youngster's temperature may mount as high as 107 degrees.

Since the mechanism regulating the body's heat is not fully developed at birth, a completely normal child may have variations in temperature of one or two degrees during the first year of life.

Even though we know relatively little about fever, we do know how to control it in most cases.

Cool baths—and I don't mean cold baths—will help. So will cool water enemas. Feeding liquids to a dehydrated child will also help lower a temperature.

As for drugs, the old reliable aspirin and similar salicylic compounds are the most commonly used. Another drug, Acetaminophen, has recently shown good results in reducing fever. But it should be remembered that drugs should only be taken under the doctor's guidance.

Question and Answer

R.D.B.: Is there any reason to worry if bruises caused by large iron shots given in the buttocks remain after three months?

What causes the pain and soreness? Can there be a nerve injury?

Answer: Some persons react excessively to injected iron medication, especially if it is not injected very deeply. These rare nodules may persist for some time but eventually will probably disappear.

They are not dangerous and do not suggest a nerve injury.

The house committee on government operations has made its annual report on Uncle Sam's worth. It's greater than you think.

U. S. holdings add up to 262 billion dollars worth. And each of those billions is worth a cool 498 million nowadays.

With a national debt of 276 billion dollars and a worth of 262 billion dollars, there's a 14 billion deficit. Maybe that's what the Kremlin means by capitalism being bankrupt.

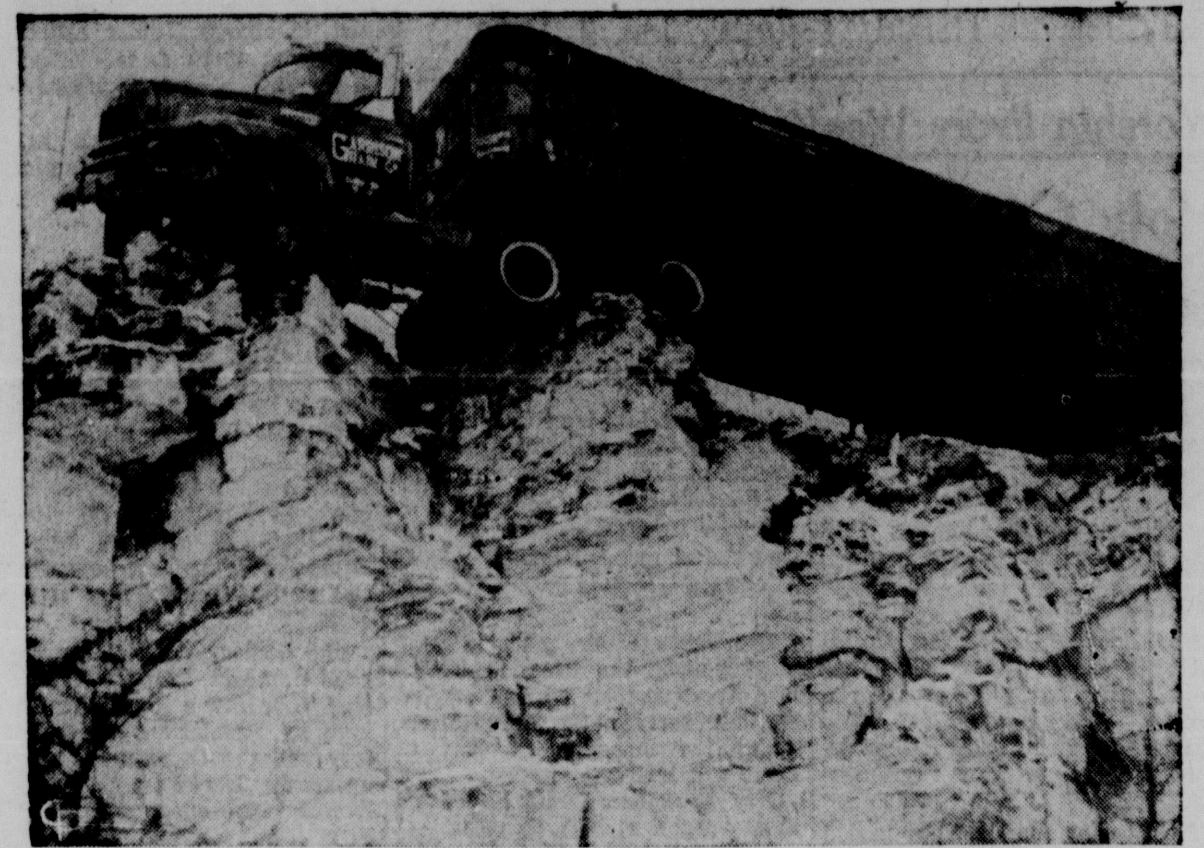

Economists say our financial situation is not at all dangerous. Dangerous or not, 14 billion dollars is too much to worry about.

Uncle Sam must be a typical American. Why be disturbed about debts you can't pay?

The 262 billion dollars represents a gain of 12 billion over the previous year. Either we've got richer or we've raised our prices.

Uncle Sam owns 770,000,000 acres of land. So even if he isn't solvent, he's still got lots.

Uruguay is the smallest South American republic. It has an area of 72,153 square miles.

U.S. Machine Tool Industry Looks for Upswing in '59

CLEVELAND (AP)—The machine tool industry, emerging from its most serious depression since the 1930s, looks for better business—but no boom—in 1959.

Shipments of machine tools—both cutting type and forming type—are estimated at 500 million dollars this year. That compares with $1,088,000,000 in 1957 and $1,195,000,000 in 1956.

After remaining at a consistently low level through most of 1958, net new orders, the indicator of potential business, started perking up in the fourth quarter. The rise was a healthy 32 per cent in October compared with the previous month.

Ralph J. Kraut, president of Gidding & Lewis Machine Tool Co. of Fond du Lac, Wis., who heads the National Machine Tool Builders Assn., lists three factors that indicate a continuation of this trend:

1. "The return of business confidence. The lag in machine tool buying was not due to a lack of need. Machine tool users hesitated to make purchase commitments until they saw which way business was going. The current upturn in product sales, with resultant exhaustion of inventories, should revive plant modernization plans which have lain dormant.

2. "The imperative need of reducing production costs. This is emphasized by continuing high wage rates here, plus the threat of invasion of American markets by products made abroad... in Europe, in recent years, plant modernization, aided by accelerated depreciation allowances, has been progressing much faster than in the United States. The need for correcting this situation inevitably will stimulate domestic machine tool purchases.

3. "The accelerating program of product re-design and development has been continuing within the machine tool industry. While sales have been down, attention has been focused upon research, invention and the practical application of new principles."

The backlog of new orders is estimated at three months—higher than at any time in 1958—but still about a month below what the industry feels is a good figure. It had dropped to about 2½ months during the second quarter.

Looking into the crystal ball for 1959, industry sources see net new orders jumping from an estimated 380 million dollars in 1958 to around 450 million during the next 12 months.

That would be a healthy step along the road to recovery but still way down from the 643 million dollars marked up in 1957. One source said the second half of the new year should show a return to a fair level of prosperity.

Time To Tame the Bear

Current among the most popular games of the diplomatic set, and gaining greater favor among lay followers of the international tug of war, is trying to guess what the Russians will do when their self-imposed six month Berlin deadline expires on June 1. Perhaps even more fascinating is trying to predict what the western powers will do to counteract the Soviet moves.

This has become known as the game of "if" because no one, including the Russians, apparently knows what the first move will be. ## European Money Steadier

By George Sokolsky

Europe seems to be coming to its senses economically and although such matters are always difficult to work out, once the European countries get on the right track again, they will find the answer to many fiscal problems.

The last time they tried to solve these particular problems by concerted action was in 1933 at the London Economic Conference which was an effort to save Europe from many of the disasters that have occurred since then. That Conference, it will be recalled, was torpedoed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt who went off on a ship with Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and became inconsequential when the President was most needed. It is said that he and Henry Morgenthau, Jr., clipped coins to form decisions over the gold content of the dollar, or so Morgenthau reported subsequently.

At any rate, here we are 25 years and two wars later and the Europeans have at long last solved one of their principal economic questions themselves, namely, convertibility. There is a long word for a simple process: if you live in London and have pounds and you want to buy a case of wine in Paris, your problem is to get francs. Up to now, that presented quite a problem because the British Treasury had to decide whether and when you could use your pounds for that purpose and the French government would have to decide whether it wanted more pounds or would prefer for you to change your pounds into dollars first and buy the case of wine using dollars.

Lack of convertibility made trade difficult in every case. The real trouble was that each country wanted dollars, the one absolutely stable currency in foreign exchange. And the reason that the American dollar was stable was not, as some think, because our government was sound, which it has not been for many years, but because we possessed a gold supply which served to give our dollars a 25 per cent guarantee, which was better than that of any other money.

Over the years, other nations have accumulated gold and most of that which is in the United States is earmarked for foreign countries and can be used by them to support their currencies.

Furthermore, France ought to possess between two and three billion dollars of gold, mostly held privately and some in numbered accounts in Swiss and Tangier banks. It is generally accepted that de Gaulle will find a way to bring this gold out of hiding, even if the most drastic means must be employed. If so, then the "heavy franc" which de Gaulle is expected to institute will be a gold supported franc and its existence may do much to re-establish sound currencies among the nations of Western Europe. It will serve to lead the way.

Money that is supported by nothing but the fiat of government has never been and probably never will be acceptable outside the police power of that particular state. For many years, the most solid currency was the British pound sterling to which every other currency in the world was pegged. A pound was worth about $4.85 or roughly $5.00 and trade was conducted with fair knowledge that the price on the transaction was fixed in good money.

When Great Britain and then the United States went off the gold standard, the pound fluctuated as all weak currencies do, and now it is fixed at about $2.80 to the pound. If it remains at that figure or any fixed figure, it will mean that trade will have a tremendous advantage of dealing in a fixed exchange and therefore will know what it is doing.

However, the pound may go down a bit to meet the franc. As it has been, business houses doing foreign trade, in any country, were forced to hedge their exchange transactions so that when the time came to pay they had the foreign currency and it was worth as much as when the transaction started. Startling profits and losses were made in exchange transactions, a condition which is never healthy for commerce.

The American dollar will go through some interesting changes during the next year, to be able to meet the more stabilized conditions in Western Europe. It will probably go down in value. We have already outpriced ourselves in world markets and it is for that reason that a large share of American exports are manufactured abroad.

Surprise Party Honors Miss Patty Moats

Wardell's Party Home was the scene of a surprise dinner party in honor of Miss Patty Moats on her 17th birthday Monday evening. The party was given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moats, Route 4.

Following the dinner party, the group went to the home of the honored guest where games were presented.

Those attending were: the honored guest, Bonnie Dudson, Charles Adkins, G. A. Grisson, Dale Drake, Janet Search, Eugene Congrove, Nancy Wilson, Dave Petty, Nathan Wilson, Anita and Twana Moats and the hosts.

PALE AMBER shaded to cognac is the theme of this dramatic silk chiffon evening dress by Helena Barbieri of Modern Couture. For Holiday-Resort 1959, its strapless, gathered top is marked by a high, jewel-encrusted band from which the skirt falls free in graceful, paneled folds. Free floating back panels move with the wearer to create a romantic, wind-blown effect.

Household Hints

Kitchen tongs are useful for turning chops, removing baked potatoes from the oven (if the tongs are long handled) and for lifting cooked broccoli stalks to a serving dish.

A portable oven thermometer is handy to have around because it may be used occasionally to check built-in oven control.

Lots of people dropping in for Sunday tea? Make extra-strong tea in your large-sized teapot, then dilute with boiling water.

Sprinkle orange rind over whipped cream that is to be used to garnish a banana cream pie. Good flavor contrast.

Teen-agers go for a fizz made from equal parts of grape juice and ginger ale.

Shape that cheese spread into a ball and roll in chopped pecans; looks pretty and tastes good with crackers when company comes.

The drained minced clams from a 7-ounce can are just right to add to a half-pound of cream cheese for a spread.

Note to new cooks: When a recipe directs you to "puree," force the food through a strainer or put it through a food mill.

When you are baking individual custards in a water bath, allow at least 40 minutes in a slow (325 degrees) oven.

Keep Giving Him the Needle

DEAR ABBY: I see by your column that somebody else has my problem of living in sin. The only difference is my man would like to make it legal but he is afraid of the needle for the blood test. When he was married to his first wife he didn't have to have a blood test. His wife passed away and we have a daughter and all get along fine. We would like to have our marriage blessed by the Priest but when we found out we have to have a license and witnesses we gave up. Everyone thinks we were married by a Justice of the Peace but I would feel better if things were legal and blessed by the Priest. How can we get it straightened out without any publicity?

J.P.
DEAR J.P.: Go to a shop that carries a complete line of perfumes. Ask to "sniff" their samples. If you can't identify it yourself—bring out the hankie and I'll bet someone in the shop can name it. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I accepted a date with a boy for New Year's Eve. When my parents saw a "D" on my report card they told me that I could not date all Christmas vacation and that includes New Year's Eve. This boy has made all the plans and I don't think it is fair for him to be punished because of me.

BEING PUNISHED
DEAR BEING: If you had an understanding with your parents that you could not date during Christmas vacation if you got a "D"—then you should cancel the New Year's date. But, if they agreed to let you accept this date, after seeing your grades, changed their minds, they are unfair.

Bears Overwhelm Washington 54-43 In Surprising Test

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's too early to tell, but this year's Pacific Coast Conference basketball championship may have been decided right off the bat.

Washington, hailed as a potential national contender, was regarded as the team to replace defending titlist California. But the picture has changed.

Cal, PCC champ for two straight years under Coach Pete Newell, attended to that Friday night, seven-point underdogs, the Bears smacked the Huskies 54-43. The unexpected triumph may give the Bears the impetus for a third straight title.

Big 6-10 Darrell Imhoff and Danny Fitzpatrick sparked the Bears. Fitzpatrick tossed in 21 points and Imhoff held Washington star Doug Smart to a measly five points.

The game topped a four-game PCC card that opened a heavy weekend of competition in college basketball as major teams turned from holiday tournament outings to conference activity.

Southern California and UCLA also posted surprise victories. Only Stanford made the odds stand up in the PCC by beating Washington State 50-40. Southern Cal, sparked by Jim Hanna's 18 points, upset Oregon 65-56 and UCLA, led by 14 points by world decathlon champ Rafer Johnson, downed Idaho 62-53. Paul Newmann's 24 points led Stanford.

West Virginia, bumped out of the top 10 this week, walloped Yale 80-52 in one of Friday night's major games outside the PCC. In others, Utah State nipped Washington of St. Louis 69-66, Seattle whipped Miami of Ohio 98-73, Rhode Island humbled Vermont 84-77 and once-beaten Providence beat touring Gonzaga 76-65.

There was plenty of tournament competition Friday night, too, although they involved minor teams. Springfield, Mass., and Williams battled into the final of the Springfield Invitational while Colby and St. Michaels, Vt., gained the final of the Downeast Classic at Bangor, Maine.

Springfield beat Amherst 53-42, Williams downed Massachusetts 76-65, Colby whipped Bowdoin 60-54 and St. Michaels', the runner-up to South Dakota in the NCAA College Division championship last March, trampled Bates 68-44.

The Big Ten gets underway today with Indiana's defending champs pitted against seventh-ranked Michigan State in a regionally-televised afternoon game. Ohio State plays at Illinois in another matinee contest. At night, sixth-ranked Northwestern entertains Iowa, once-beaten Purdue welcomes Michigan and Wisconsin goes to Minnesota.

The afternoon nationally televised game (NBC) finds Notre Dame at fourth-ranked North Carolina in a rematch of their Blue Grass Festival clash. Then the Tar Heels beat the Irish 81-77.

A couple of other afternoon regional-TV games find Clemson at Wake Forest and Texas Tech at Arkansas.

The heavy firing comes tonight with top-ranked Kentucky entertaining Georgia Tech on an SEC slate that also finds Miss State and Auburn, ranked 8th and 9th, matching baskets. Tenth-ranked Bradley takes on Drake in a Missouri Valley Conference struggle. The remaining teams in the AP's top 10, Cincinnati, Kansas State and N. C. State are idle.

Bluffton, Findlay Quints Lose After Holding Lead at Half

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Ohio college teams learned much to their sorrow Friday night that a halftime lead—even as much as nine points—doesn't mean much in basketball.

The two—Bluffton and Findlay—lost their games in the final minutes after leading most of the way.

Bluffton was ahead 30-28 at intermission, but Muskingum rallied in the second half and tied the score at 55-all with five minutes remaining. The Muskies, then shot ahead and stayed there to win 70-67.

Ashville Rips Perry, 68-51, For 4th Win

The Ashville Broncos, Pickaway County's most steadily improving ball club, continued on the "comeback trail" last night by defeating invading Atlanta, 68-51.

A good deal of the Broncos' fine showing can be laid upon the broad shoulders of pivot man Bobby Hoover and the set shooting of guard Dick Hollenbach.

Both men wound up the evening with 19 points. Hoover was exceptional in his passing and assists from the double-pivot position, shared with Jim Rathburn.

Atlanta used a 2-3 zone defense which it overrode onto Hoover's side. When this was done, Hoover passed off to Rathburn or Franks for drive-in scores. The Red Raiders ended up in a man-to-man defense.

ASHVILLE opened up with a 19-11 lead at the end of the first period, boosting its advantage to 36-23 at halftime. An identical 17-12 third quarter gave the Broncos a 53-35 margin.

The contest was clean with a total of 22 personal fouls being called, 10 against Atlanta and 12 on Ashville. The scrappy Raiders experienced their coldest night of the year from the floor.

Ashville defenses were loose, but Atlanta couldn't score when it had clear shots. The Red Raiders attempted 92 field goals, connecting on 19 for 20 per cent. Ashville hit for approximately 40 per cent.

The Broncos fine floor percentage was due to the deadly shooting of Hollenbach from deep back court, the rebounding of Rathburn and Hoover, and the hook shot and tip-in ability of stellar junior center.

Darrell Wiscup was top man for the Raiders with 13 points from the outside. He was aided by Jerry Newton with 10 points and Ronnie Morris's 11 from the corner and under the bucket.

Ashville used 1-2-2 zone and man-to-man defenses. The Broncos now hold a four-place place county league tie with Monroe and Pickaway based on a 2-2 record. They are 4-7 overall.

Atlanta has yet to win a league game, dropping five straight. The Raiders are 3-7 on the season. The Broncos made it a complete evening with a narrow 34-31 reserve win. Noggle led Ashville with 12 points.

Saltcreek Hands Deers 59-50 Defeat

Invading Saltcreek blasted to a 59-50 victory last night over an erratic Williamsport aggregation, which just Tuesday capped its own holiday cage tournament.

The "hot and cold" Deers just couldn't get up enough steam last night to down a determined Warrior unit. The Deers looked nothing like the squad that recently handed Stoutsville its second loss in eight games, 50-43.

Saltcreek's Valentine brothers came to the front in the Warrior victory, tallying 39 points between them. Kenny had 18 and Gary garnered 21. The Deercreek duo, Nick Stonerock and David Myers, scored 38 points, but assistance from teammates lacked for the Deers.

The three other Deers registered four points each. Meanwhile, Saltcreek got 11 points from Charles Spangler plus six from Bill Weaver and three from Larry Cupp.

WILLIAMSPORT led at one stage of the game, the first quarter, 10-3, as Saltcreek was bottled with frigid field goal shooting. The Warriors reversed the contest in the second stanza, outscoring Williamsport 10-4, for a 16-14 halftime advantage.

Saltcreek clogged the middle against the Deercreek big men, forcing them to go to the outside. Stonerock played another fine ball game for Williamsport with 16 points on rebounds and battled Saltcreek pivot man, Gary Valentine, down to the wire.

The Warriors increased their third period margin to 12 points with a 24-14 mark, to lead 40-28. Williamsport rallied in the waning minutes of the battle to trail 55-50 with two minutes remaining after being down 15 points earlier.

Saltcreek iced the game at this point with four quick points. Both quintets were off their shooting eye in the first half, but the Warriors strong second half won them the fray.

G. Valentine tallied 18 points in the final two quarters and brother, Deny, hit for 14. Deny pumped in shots from under the bucket and on long sets from the side. Gary dipped in his points from around the bucket.

Saltcreek used a 2-3 zone defense, while Williamsport resorted to a 2-3 zone early in the contest, later switching to a man-to-man. Myers sent 22 points through the nets from the side and the foul lane to lead the evening's scoring.

WILLIAMSPORT shot 29 per cent from the field, hitting 17 of 60 attempts. The Deers shot 57 per cent from the free throw line, notching 16 of 28 attempts.

Saltcreek connected on 19 of 26 from the foul line for a sizzling 73 per cent. Deny Valentine hit for all six of his free throw offerings.

Saltcreek stands 4-4 on the season and 3-2 in league play for third position. Deercreek dropped from a third place tie into seventh place with a 2-3 record. It is 7-5 overall.

Williamsport won the reserve contest, 38-26. Tom Barnes and Gordon Russell were tops for the Deers with 11 and nine points respectively. Weaver with six and Fout with five were Saltcreek's leading scorers.

The experienced Ortega, ranked No. 5 by Ring and No. 6 by the National Boxing Assn. in the welterweight class, had made an 8-5 favorite. A late switch made Moyer a 6-5 favorite.

At the age of 19, this handsome youngster from Portland is a professional boxer with 19 straight victories and no defeats. He almost lost his first bout Friday night at Madison Square Garden but he scraped home on a controversial split decision.

One of the judges, Artie Aidala, thought Mexico's Gaspar Ortega deserved the decision 6-3-1. But the other officials voted for Moyer. Referee Arthur Mercante had it 6-3-1 and Judge Nick Gamboli 5-4-1. The Associated Press card had it 6-4 for Ortega and 16 of 18 boxing writers polled at ringside voted for the Mexican. Most of the small crowd of about 2,000 seemed to agree with the decision.

The experienced Ortega, ranked No. 5 by Ring and No. 6 by the National Boxing Assn. in the welterweight class, had made an 8-5 favorite. A late switch made Moyer a 6-5 favorite.

Sports Predictions for '59

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

The crystal ball is slightly hazy from holiday jollity but in a bit of fog we see the Yankees and the Braves winning the pennants again in this, the new year 1959, and some of the other outstanding athletes retaining their places at the top of the heap.

If guessing is our game, and it is, we might give you:

● Floyd Patterson will retain his heavyweight title and fight at least twice.

● Sugar Ray Robinson will lose his middleweight crown and retire for good.

● Silky Sullivan will come back and be one of the top campaigners on the turf.

● The Baltimore Colts will repeat as pro grid champs.

● The National league will beat the American league in the All-Star baseball game in Pittsburgh next July 7.

● No franchise shifts will be made in baseball, but ownership of one or two clubs will change.

● Ted Williams WON'T win another batting crown.

● The Montreal Canadiens will win their 11th Stanley Cup playoff title.

● Willie Shoemaker again will win the Jockey crown.

● Both Joe Brown, the lightweight champ, and Don Jordan, the welterweight king, will lose their titles.

● Joe Kuharich will have a fine season at Notre Dame.

● We'll have a new king and queen of tennis, both at Wimbledon and Forest Hills.

● The United States will dominate the Pan-American track and field games this summer.

● Bowling will become even more popular and a U.S.-wide traveling league will be formed.

● Both Michigan and Michigan State will return to respectability in the Western Conference.

(We had more, but someone just knocked that crystal ball off the table. At least the fog is beginning to clear.)

Tigers Ready For Invasion By Hillsboro

Local cage fans should be in for a treat tonight when the Indians of Hillsboro romp into town for a crucial contest with the Circleville Tigers.

First place in the South-Central Ohio League will be at stake and both teams will be looking long and hard for a victory. Season records indicate that the two squads are about evenly matched.

Circleville holds the upper hand as far as current league standings are concerned with a 3-0 record and first place in the loop. Hillsboro, 3-1 in the circuit, could change this with a decision tonight.

Coach Dick Snouffer's crew has worked at a steady pace this week in preparation for the tilt. Hillsboro undoubtedly will be at peak strength for the meeting.

The reserve contest is slated to start at 7 p. m. The varsity battle will start shortly after the preliminary.

Maryland Eyes Wyoming Coach

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Wyoming football coach Bob Devaney, invited to the University of Maryland to talk about the coaching vacancy here, says the discussions were merely exploratory and the job "was not offered to me."

Devaney says he's interested in the coaching job, vacated when Tommy Mont's contract was not renewed, but he added:

"I got the impression they (college officials) were going to wait until after the NCAA convention in Cincinnati Jan. 7" before deciding on Mont's successor.

Devaney is a 43-year-old graduate of Alma College in Michigan. Mont was forced to resign after 3 losing seasons, in which his teams won 11 games, lost 18 and tied 1.

Army end Don Ury was a freshman at Texas A. and M. before going to the U. S. Military Academy.

Darby Sweeps Jackson, 85-50, For League Lead

Darby just had too many horses for Jackson last night as it rolled over the host Wildcats, 85-50, for its eighth straight victory.

By virtue of last night's win, the Trojans are in sole possession of first place in the Pickaway County League with a 5-0 slate. Scioto ranks second with a clean 4-0 record.

Darby had five men in double figures and displayed a potent and well-balanced attack that completely smothered Jackson, recent upset victors over Williamsport.

St. Marys placed four men in the double figure column while leading in all four quarters. Lancaster doubled the score on Amanda in the first period, 16-8.

Amanda rallied in the second canto coming within five points at halftime to trail, 31-26. The Aces hit a frigid streak in the second half, only managing 18 points. St. Marys pumped in 26 points in the final two quarters.

Dave Eaton chipped in 16 points to lead the Lancaster scorers. Amanda's Gussett captured scoring honors with 17 points.

Lancaster swept the evening with a 44-42 overtime reserve victory. St. Marys is 5-4 for the year.

64-62, for its first and only win.

The Trojans took a close 15-11 lead at the end of the first quarter and extended it to 35-24 at intermission time. A floating Darby zone kept Jackson to the outside and blocked many Wildcat field goal attempts.

THE WILDCATS employed a man-to-man against the mighty Trojans, but the height of pivot man John Drummond and forward David Musselman went over the heads of the smaller Wildcat crew.

Drummond finished the night with 23 points on hook shots and jumps from the foul lane. Musselman also hit from the center lane on jump shots and sank six free throws.

Darby continued its massive attack with a 19-7 spurge in the third quarter to lead 54-31. But this was nothing to its fourth period steam-roller drive which garnered 31 points to Jackson's 19.

The Wildcats' top men were Charles Galloway and Jerry Brigner with 20 and 15 points respectively. Galloway hit from the corner and Brigner from the outside.

Jackson experienced a cold night, which could be blamed on lack of practice this week. Aiding the Trojan scoring was Tommy Liff, 16, Tommy Walters, 12, and Alvin Cox, 10.

Jackson stands ninth in league play with a 1-4 slate and 1-8 overall. Darby swept the evening with a 33-23 reserve victory. Jerry Vance led the Trojan scoring with 15 points and Webb was tops for Jackson with 14.

Saltcreek Hands Deers 59-50 Defeat

Invading Saltcreek blasted to a 59-50 victory last night over an erratic Williamsport aggregation, which just Tuesday copped its own holiday game tournament.

The "hot and cold" Deers just couldn't get up enough steam last night to down a determined Warrior unit. The Deers looked nothing like the squad that recently handed Stoutsville its second loss in eight games, 30-43.

Saltcreek's Valentine brothers came to the front in the Warrior victory, tallying 39 points between them. Kenny had 18 and Gary garnered 21. The Deercreek duo, Nick Stonerock and David Myers, scored 38 points, but assistance from teammates lacked for the Deers.

The three other Deers registered four points each. Meanwhile, Saltcreek got 11 points from Charles Spangler plus six from Bill Weaver and three from Larry Cupp.

WILLIAMSPORT led at one stage of the game, the first quarter, 10-3, as Saltcreek was bottled with frigid field goal shooting. The Warriors reversed the contest in the second stanza, outscoring Williamsport 10-4, for a 16-14 halftime advantage.

Saltcreek clogged the middle against the Deercreek big men, forcing them to go to the outside. Stonerock played another fine ball game for Williamsport with 16 points on rebounds and battled Saltcreek pivot man, Gary Valentine, down to the wire.

The Warriors increased their third period margin to 12 points with a 24-14 mark, to lead 40-28. Williamsport rallied in the waning minutes of the battle to trail 55-50 with two minutes remaining after being down 15 points earlier.

Saltcreek iced the game at this point with four quick points. Both quintets were off their shooting eye in the first half, but the Warriors strong second half won them the fray.

G. Valentine tallied 18 points in the final two quarters and brother, Deny, hit for 14. Deny pumped in shots from under the bucket and on long sets from the side. Gary dipped in his points from around the bucket.

Saltcreek used a 2-3 zone defense, while Williamsport resorted to a 2-3 zone early in the contest, later switching to a man-to-man. Myers sent 22 points through the nets from the side and the foul lane to lead the evening's scoring.

WILLIAMSPORT shot 29 per cent from the field, hitting 17 of 60 attempts. The Deers shot 57 per cent from the free throw line, notching 16 of 28 attempts.

Saltcreek connected on 19 of 26 from the foul line for a sizzling 73 per cent. Deny Valentine hit for all six of his free throw offerings. Saltcreek stands 4-4 on the season and 3-2 in league play for third position. Deercreek dropped from a third place tie into seventh place with a 2-3 record. It is 7-5 overall.

Williamsport won the reserve contest, 38-26. Tom Barnes and Gordon Russell were tops for the Deers with 11 and nine points respectively. Weaver with six and Fout with five were Saltcreek's leading scorers.

Denny Moyer Gets Disputed Ring Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—Some kids want to grow up to be railroad engineers. Some want to be policemen. Some doctors. Denny Moyer always wanted to be a fighter.

It was natural. Denny's father, Harry, was a pretty fair welter in the Pacific Coast area years ago. His uncle, Tommy, who now is the promoter in Portland, Ore., was a great amateur boxer. His older brother, Phil, is a good looking middleweight prospect.

At the age of 19, this handsome youngster from Portland is a professional boxer with 19 straight victories and no defeats. He almost lost his first bout Friday night at Madison Square Garden but he scraped home on a controversial split decision.

One of the judges, Ardie Aidaia, thought Mexico's Gaspar Ortega deserved the decision 6-3-1. But the other officials voted for Moyer. Referee Arthur Mercante had it 6-3-1 and Judge Nick Gam-boli 5-4-1. The Associated Press card had it 6-4 for Ortega and 16 of 18 boxing writers polled at ringside voted for the Mexican. Most of the small crowd of about 2,000 seemed to agree with the decision.

The experienced Ortega, ranked No. 5 by Ring and No. 6 by the National Boxing Assn. in the welterweight class, had been an 8-5 favorite. A late switch made Moyer a 6-5 favorite.

Bulla Sets Pace In L.A. Open

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Birdie-bagging Johnny Bulla of Arizona today led the way into the second round of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament, an event he captured back in 1941.

At 44, Bulla is hardly an antique in golf, but it's been a long time since he hit the headlines in a major tournament. The likeable guy from Phoenix took charge of the first round when he burned the Rancho municipal course with a 33-31-64. This was seven strokes under par 36-35-71 for the 7,000-yard layout.

Sports Predictions for '59

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

The crystal ball is slightly hazy from holiday jollity but in a bit of fog we see the Yankees and the Braves winning the pennants again in this, the new year 1959, and some of the other outstanding athletes retaining their places at the top of the heap.

If guessing is our game, and it is, we might give you:

- Floyd Patterson will retain his heavyweight title and fight at least twice.
  - Sugar Ray Robinson will lose his middleweight crown and retire for good.
  - Silky Sullivan will come back and be one of the top campaigners on the turf.
  - The Baltimore Colts will repeat as pro grid champs.
  - The National league will beat the American league in the All-Star baseball game in Pittsburgh next July 7.
  - No franchise shifts will be made in baseball, but ownership of one or two clubs will change.
  - Ted Williams WON'T win another batting crown.
  - The Montreal Canadiens will win their 11th Stanley Cup playoff title.
  - Willie Shoemaker again will win the jockey crown.
  - Both Joe Brown, the lightweight champ, and Don Jordan, the welterweight king, will lose their titles.
  - Joe Kuharich will have a fine season at Notre Dame.
  - We'll have a new king and queen of tennis, both at Wimbledon and Forest Hills.
  - The United States will dominate the Pan-American track and field games this summer.
  - Bowling will become even more popular and a U.S.-wide traveling league will be formed.
  - Both Michigan and Michigan State will return to respectability in the Western Conference.
- (We had more, but someone just knocked that crystal ball off the table. At least the fog is beginning to clear.)

Tigers Ready For Invasion By Hillsboro

Local cage fans should be in for a treat tonight when the Indians of Hillsboro romp into town for a crucial contest with the Circleville Tigers.

First place in the South Central Ohio League will be at stake and both teams will be looking long and hard for a victory. Season records indicate that the two squads are about evenly matched.

Circleville holds the upper hand as far as current league standings are concerned with a 3-0 record and first place in the loop. Hillsboro, 3-1 in the circuit, could change this with a decision tonight.

Coach Dick Snuffer's crew has worked at a steady pace this week in preparation for the tilt. Hillsboro undoubtedly will be at peak strength for the meeting.

The reserve contest is slated to start at 7 p. m. The varsity battle will start shortly after the preliminary.

Maryland Eyes Wyoming Coach

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Wyoming football coach Bob Devaney, invited to the University of Maryland to talk about the coaching vacancy here, says the discussions were merely exploratory and the job "was not offered to me."

Devaney says he's interested in the coaching job, vacated when Tommy Mont's contract was not renewed, but he added:

"I got the impression they (college officials) were going to wait until after the NCAA convention in Cincinnati Jan. 7" before deciding on Mont's successor.

Devaney is a 43-year-old graduate of Alma College in Michigan. Mont was forced to resign after 3 losing seasons, in which his teams won 11 games, lost 18 and tied 1.

Army end Don Utry was a freshman at Texas A. and M. before going to the U. S. Military Academy.

Darby Sweeps Jackson, 85-50, For League Lead

Darby just had too many horses for Jackson last night as it rolled over the host Wildcats, 85-50, for its eighth straight victory.

By virtue of last night's win, the Trojans are in sole possession of first place in the Pickaway County League with a 5-0 slate. Scioto ranks second with a clean 4-0 record.

Darby had five men in double figures and displayed a potent and well-balanced attack that completely smothered Jackson, recent upset victors over Williamsport.

Amanda Drops 7th, 57-44

A well-balanced Lancaster St. Mary's scoring attack handed Amanda its seventh setback in eight outings last night on the Aces' court, 57-44.

St. Mary's placed four men in the double figure column while leading in all four quarters. Lancaster doubled the score on Amanda in the first period, 16-8.

Amanda rallied in the second canto coming within five points at halftime to trail, 31-26. The Aces hit a frigid trail in the second half, only managing 18 points. St. Marys pumped in 26 points in the final two quarters.

Dave Eaton chipped in 16 points to lead the Lancaster scorers. Amanda's Gussett captured scoring honors with 17 points.

Lancaster swept the evening with a 44-42 overtime reserve victory. St. Marys is 5-4 for the year.

64-62, for its first and only win. The Trojans took a close 15-11 lead at the end of the first quarter and extended it to 35-24 at intermission time. A floating Darby zone kept Jackson to the outside and blocked many Wildcat field goal attempts.

THE WILDCATS employed a man-to-man against the mighty Trojans, but the height of pivot man John Drummond and forward David Musselman went over the heads of the smaller Wildcat crew.

Drummond finished the night with 23 points on hook shots and jumps from the foul lane. Musselman also hit from the center lane on jump shots and sank six free throws.

Darby continued its massive attack with a 19-7 spurge in the third quarter to lead 54-31. But this was nothing to its fourth period steam-roller drive which garnered 31 points to Jackson's 19.

The Wildcats' top men were Charles Galloway and Jerry Bringer with 20 and 15 points respectively. Galloway hit from the corner and Bringer from the outside.

Jackson experienced a cold night, which could be blamed on lack of practice this week. Aiding the Trojan scoring was Tommy Liff, 16, Tommy Walters, 12, and Alvin Cox, 10.

Jackson stands ninth in league play with a 1-4 slate and 1-8 overall. Darby swept the evening with a 33-23 reserve victory. Jerry Vance led the Trojan scoring with 15 points and Webb was tops for Jackson with 14.

WOW AS ROOKIE . . . By Alan Maver

Veteran Banker Quits Post To Become Episcopal Cleric

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer
GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Paul Jacoby Jr. was a bank trust officer for 40 years.
Now he's the Rev. Paul Jacoby Jr., curate of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in South Ozone Park.
He was able to attain the Protestant Episcopal priesthood late in life through the George Mercer Jr. Memorial School of Theology, the Diocese of Long Island's unusual night school for clergy candidates.
The school, located on the grounds of the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City, reached full flower Christmas week with the consecration of its Chapel of the Good Shepherd.
Mercer is like any other theological school except that its student body is made up of older men who hold fulltime jobs during the day and study for the priesthood two nights a week and Saturday.
The school was begun in February 1955 by the Rt. Rev. James P. De Wolfe, bishop of Long Island. First classes were held in the Cathedral House or at nearby St. Paul's School.
Before that, men who received the call to the priesthood late in life studied for the ministry under private tutors assigned by Bishop De Wolfe. The bishop found the system "not altogether commendable."
"The older men who have read for the Holy Orders under tutors have lacked any community life in the course of their preparation," says the bishop.
"They have missed contact with the range of personalities and the modes of handling subject matter which are now provided by a numerous faculty."
"The danger of their reflecting chiefly the reactions and attitudes of a single instructor was a serious drawback calling for drastic change in procedure."
The "drastic change in procedure" became the Mercer school, the Episcopal Church's only night school for the training of clergymen.

OLD U.S. CAPITOL STEPS UNCOVERED — Workmen moving the east front of the Capitol building forward about 35 feet in Washington, D.C., uncovered a tier of steps which served as the main entrance to the original Capitol in the pre-1800 days. The Capitol of the U.S. is being enlarged.

Veteran Banker Quits Post To Become Episcopal Cleric

By TOM HENSHAW

AP Religion Writer
GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Paul Jacoby Jr., was a bank trust officer for 40 years.

Now he's the Rev. Paul Jacoby Jr., curate of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in South Ozone Park.

He was able to attain the Protestant Episcopal priesthood late in life through the George Mercer Jr. Memorial School of Theology, the Diocese of Long Island's unusual night school for clergy candidates.

The school, located on the grounds of the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City, reached full flower Christmas week with the consecration of its Chapel of the Good Shepherd.

Mercer is like any other theological school except that its student body is made up of older men who hold fulltime jobs during the day and study for the priesthood two nights a week and Saturday.

The school was begun in February 1955 by the Rt. Rev. James P.

De Wolfe, bishop of Long Island. First classes were held in the Cathedral House or at nearby St. Paul's School.

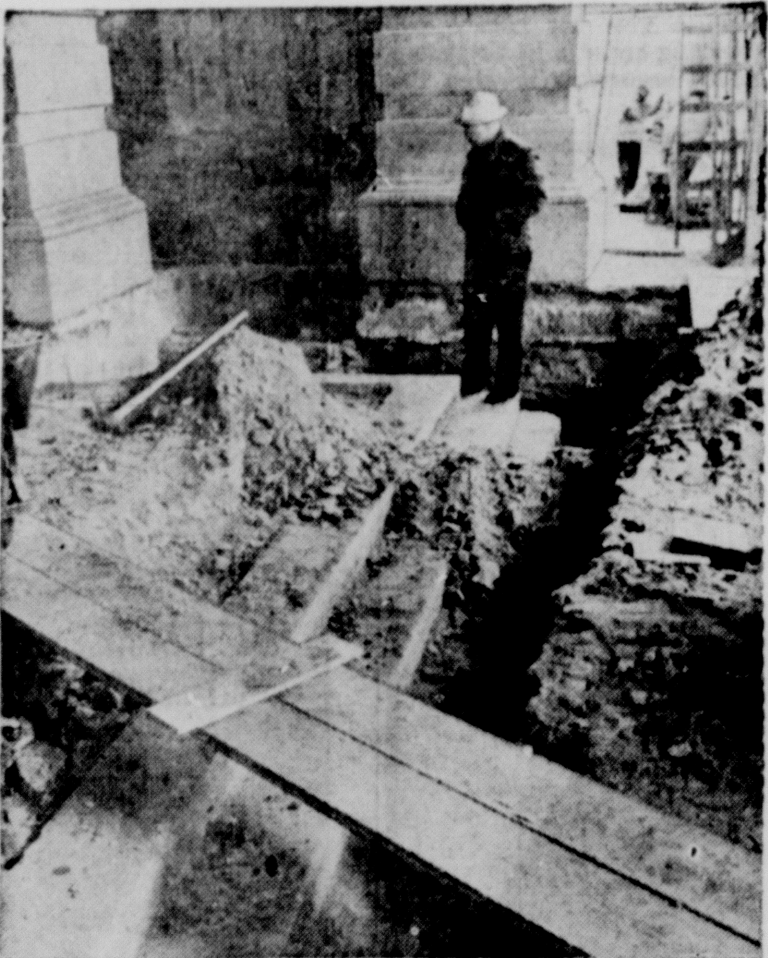

Before that, men who received the call to the priesthood late in life studied for the ministry under private tutors assigned by Bishop De Wolfe. The bishop found the system "not altogether commendable."

"The older men who have read for the Holy Orders under tutors have lacked any community life in the course of their preparation," says the bishop.

"They have missed contact with the range of personalities and the modes of handling subject matter which are now provided by a numerous faculty."

"The danger of their reflecting chiefly the reactions and attitudes of a single instructor was a serious drawback calling for drastic change in procedure."

The "drastic change in procedure" became the Mercer school, the Episcopal Church's only night school for the training of clergymen.

'Rich' Argentina Nearly Bankrupt

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — This should be one of the richest nations in the world. Yet today Argentina is almost bankrupt. Its internal government deficit for 1958 was around 50 billion pesos — 835 million dollars. The government has flooded the country with unbacked printing press pesos to pay salaries. The cost of living has gone up 1,500 per cent in 15 years—35 per cent in eight months. The tragedy is that this need not have happened. Argentina is not a one-product nation. There is enough oil in the ground to make Argentina a big producer. There are coal fields, iron ore, enough of almost all the basic minerals needed — but undeveloped. "Twenty years ago this country was a paradise," you hear often. What happened? How did the country, instead of realizing its tremendous potential, slip toward financial ruin?

Slayer of Daughter Is Ruled To Be Insane

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton woman charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of her daughter has been ruled insane. Psychiatrists at Lima State Hospital, where she has been under observation since Dec. 3, made the report on Mrs. Freda Cooper, 40. She is accused of slaying her daughter Phoebe Forcht, 14, Nov. 12. Police said Mrs. Cooper left notes saying she was depressed over her impending divorce. She also shot herself, but recovered.

Fire Rescue Squadron Gets Pool Game Going

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—It took a fire department rescue squad to get a pool game going again in a tavern here. Harry Miller, 29, caught his hand between metal tracks in the table while trying to free some balls which had stuck in a pocket. The rescue squad prised the tracks apart and freed him.

C&O Railroad Profit Shows Decline in '58

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway reports net income for 1958 was 52 million dollars, equivalent to $6.36 a share of common stock. This is down 16 million dollars from the record high net of 68 million, equivalent to $8.36 a common share, for 1957.

Ohio Nature Columnist Dies in Columbus at 75

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Arthur R. Harper, 75, nature columnist for the Columbus Dispatch, died Thursday at his home here. A former field naturalist for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, his column, "A Leaf From the Rambler's Album," appeared in the Sunday Dispatch for about eight years. He was the author of "Ohio in the Making," a book about the state's historical geology.

In 1758, the province of New Jersey established what is believed to be the first Indian reservation in America — a 3,284-acre tract set aside in Burlington county for the Leni Lenape tribe.

Much, but not all, of Argentina's troubles can be traced to ex-Dictator Juan Peron. Perhaps the worst thing Peron did was to foster the idea that a person does not have to work hard, or do a good job, to earn his bread and butter. There are many hard working Argentines but the mass of people, spoon-fed by Peron policies which won him the workers' allegiance, are reluctant to give a day's work for a day's pay. Labor laws still on the books make it almost impossible to fire a completely incompetent man. Peron instigated the still popular measure of decreeing nationwide wage increases. This forced private firms to raise salaries regardless of workers' abilities. The dictator provided that striking workers would be paid for all the days they missed while on strike. Government employees and their dependents make up a third of the population. This bureaucracy stifles the economy. Peron tried to swing Argentina from its previous money-making agricultural economy to an industrial economy. Diversification was not a bad idea but it was a case of too much too soon. Farm workers by the thousands were lured from plains to factories. Big ranches which produced thousands of cattle were broken up into small holdings for peasants. The divided lands could not be run as efficiently. Peron encouraged the nationalist spirit which causes Latin nations to attempt mammoth tasks without needed technical aid from outside. Argentina's state-owned oil monopoly in 50 years has been unable to develop proven reserves. Peron nationalized utilities and kept rates low. Now deficits pile up yearly and the service is terrible. Peron was overthrown in 1955 but the country has taken few constructive steps toward recovery. This week some hope came. The nation arranged for 329 million in credit, mainly from the United States. President Arturo Frondizi freed the peso to find its own level. He ordered a two-year regime of austerity, with gasoline tripled in price, train fares increased and prices in general due to rise. He said state-run utilities must pay their way. He has signed agreements with foreign firms to develop oil. The foreign loans are only a temporary measure. The government will have to provide stern leadership and the people hard work if Argentina is to recover.

This Commuter Rides Just for Fun of It

BOUND BROOK, N.J. (AP) — The financially pressed railroads need more commuters like Edward Hauber. Hauber takes the 7:28 a.m. Jersey Central Lines train daily, though he isn't going any place in particular. He is a 12-year-old who likes to ride the trains. So his father bought him a weekly commutation ticket as a Christmas present. The road's public relations department plans to give the boy the VIP treatment, and a ride in the cab of the diesel locomotive.

2 More DIs Face Marine Corps Trial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Two more Marine drill instructors charged with assaulting members of a recruit platoon are scheduled for court-martial at this Marine training base.

A third instructor was acquitted New Year's eve of assaulting two members of the platoon and of soliciting and accepting money from his recruits.

S. Sgt. Ralph Grant, 26, of Racine, Wis., was found innocent by a general court martial board of seven officers. The verdict was reached after one hour and 10 minutes deliberation.

The career Marine commented: "I think the Marine Corps has been justified. I don't see how the verdict could have been anything else."

Charges against Grant and Sgts. Willard Poss of Augusta, Ga., and Ronald Heller of Milwaukee, Wis., stemmed from complaints of a few parents of the all-Ohio "Steel Valley" recruit platoon.

Poss is charged with accepting money from recruits and with assaulting one of them. Heller is charged only with assault.

Defense attorney Carl Sanders, a member of the Georgia State Senate, said he will ask that the other two military trials not be held next week because his time then will be taken up with legislative matters.

In his closing remarks to the military panel, Sanders asserted it was "reasonable and logical" for the court to believe that "we have insidious influences in our country that are at work" to undermine the solidarity of the Marine Corps.

British Gold Reserve Shows December Drop

LONDON (AP)—Britain's gold and dollar reserves fell in December for the first time in 15 months, due to large-scale loan repayments to the United States and Canada. A Treasury announcement said the reserves had dipped by 145 million dollars and stood at 1,096 million dollars at the end of the year. Strengthening of reserves was reported to have been a factor in Britain's decision last week to make the pound partially convertible. This move enabled foreign holders of sterling to convert their money directly to dollars.

Financial Cupboard Is Bare

Next Ohio Assembly Meet Could Be Very Expensive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 103rd Legislature which convenes Monday could be the most expensive in Ohio history.

A veteran lawmaker described the financial picture as bleak. He envisioned "routine" demands for increased appropriations of 150 million dollars and said they easily could exceed 250 million.

Appropriations for the state's two-year bookkeeping period ending next June ran well over a billion dollars.

Rising operating costs and shrinking revenues caused the outgoing GOP administration of Gov. C. William O'Neill to draw on the state's surplus to keep a no-new-tax promise.

When Democrat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle takes over next week, he faces the prospect of an empty financial cupboard, mounting expenditures and revenues still below pre-recession estimates.

The new Democratic-controlled Legislature expects to give DiSalle a sympathetic ear on spending needs and how to raise the money to pay for them.

DiSalle avoids direct mention of taxes. He stresses that financial wants must play second fiddle to needs in his administration. But he asserts there will be no "starvation operation" in order to make a record.

The new governor told cabinet appointees to study needs of their departments and make appropriation requests accordingly. He indicated that such things as mental health, old age benefits and general welfare services will need more money.

DiSalle announced plans to lay a "completely unvarnished picture" of state finances before the Legislature at an early date.

O'Neill will deliver a message to the General Assembly next Tuesday, second day of the new session. He expects to review his accomplishments and suggest a prudent policy for the future.

O'Neill has said he expects some 20 million dollars in deficiency appropriations will be needed for schools, old age pensions and health care but that a small surplus will remain at the end of the fiscal year if economy is practiced. DiSalle has taken exception to the claims.

The outgoing governor also warned that Ohio will have to find more highway money if the year's 400-million-dollar construction rate is to be maintained. O'Neill estimated that only about 250 million will be available for construction.

Democratic platform pledges and administration programs spell big financial trouble for Ohio lawmakers in the coming session, members agree. DiSalle has suggested a short session to take care of house-keeping chores and a later working session, after a recess, to solve the problems. Leaders of both parties have expressed opposition or coolness towards such a course.

They said demands upon the Legislature will keep members busy until the financial knots are unraveled.

Republicans, in the minority for the first time in a decade, indicate they will go along with Democrats in most matters. But they appear determined to oppose what they term excessive spending that would require big boosts in taxes that must come from the pockets of Ohioans.

Other issues such as utility rate formulas, supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB), increased courthouse fees and anti-racketeering laws may touch off fireworks but lawmakers expect the main show to feature finances and taxes.

Franklin Housewife Shoots Husband, 48

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A Franklin housewife who says she was forced to beg food for their six children is in custody in the shooting of her husband.

Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite said Mrs. Pauline Collins, 32, shot her husband Joe, 48, in the back Friday night with a 20-gauge shotgun.

Investigators quoted the woman as saying her mill-worker husband refused to give her money and the shooting ended a long-standing string of arguments between the couple.

Stork Is Busy Bird In Columbus with New Year Arrivals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The stork was a busy fellow here New Year's Day. In fact, he was in two places at the same time.

Mrs. James Morrison gave birth to her fourth son at Grant Hospital while Mrs. Paul Hefey was having her third at Mount Carmel Hospital. Neither has any daughters.

The first twins of 1959 to be born in the city arrived at 6:51 and 7:01 a.m. at White Cross Hospital. Mrs. Andrew Benyo had identical girls, which a Chicago home permanent company (Toni) says may be the first twins born in the country this year. The company hands out $500 in gifts to each set of twins born in the first 12 hours of each new year.

Dick, who owns a farm in Stark County, is controller for six Sears, Roebuck & Co. stores in the Alliance area. His duties include purchasing, auditing and accounting. He began his work with the company in 1941.

An Air Force spokesman said something apparently went wrong with the hydraulic system that controls the plane's rudders and flaps.

2 More DIs Face Marine Corps Trial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Two more Marine drill instructors charged with assaulting members of a recruit platoon are scheduled for court-martial at this Marine training base.

A third instructor was acquitted New Year's eve of assaulting two members of the platoon and of soliciting and accepting money from his recruits.

S. Sgt. Ralph Grant, 26, of Racine, Wis., was found innocent by a general court martial board of seven officers. The verdict was reached after one hour and 10 minutes of deliberation.

The career Marine commented: "I think the Marine Corps has been justified. I don't see how the verdict could have been anything else."

Charges against Grant and Sgts. Willard Pess of Augusta, Ga., and Ronald Heller of Milwaukee, Wis., stemmed from complaints of a few parents of the all-Ohio "Steel Valley" recruit platoon.

Pess is charged with accepting money from recruits and with assaulting one of them. Heller is charged only with assault.

Defense attorney Carl Sanders, a member of the Georgia State Senate, said he will ask that the other two military trials not be held next week because his time then will be taken up with legislative matters.

In his closing remarks to the military panel, Sanders asserted it was "reasonable and logical" for the court to believe that "we have insidious influences in our country that are at work" to undermine the solidarity of the Marine Corps.

British Gold Reserve Shows December Drop

LONDON (AP)—Britain's gold and dollar reserves fell in December for the first time in 15 months, due to large-scale loan repayments to the United States and Canada.

A Treasury announcement said the reserves had dipped by 145 million dollars and stood at 1,096 million at the end of the year.

Strengthening of reserves was reported to have been a factor in Britain's decision last week to make the pound partially convertible. This move enabled foreign holders of sterling to convert their money directly to dollars.

Financial Cupboard Is Bare

Next Ohio Assembly Meet Could Be Very Expensive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 103rd Legislature which convenes Monday could be the most expensive of Ohio history.

A veteran lawmaker described the financial picture as bleak. He envisioned "routine" demands for increased appropriations of 150 million dollars and said they easily could exceed 250 million.

Appropriations for the state's two-year bookkeeping period ending next June ran well over a billion dollars.

Rising operating costs and shrinking revenues caused the outgoing GOP administration of Gov. C. William O'Neill to draw on the state's surplus to keep a no-new-tax promise.

When Democrat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle takes over next week, he faces the prospect of an empty financial cupboard, mounting expenditures and revenues still below pre-recession estimates.

The new Democratic-controlled Legislature expects to give DiSalle a sympathetic ear on spending needs and how to raise the money to pay for them.

DiSalle avoids direct mention of taxes. He stresses that financial wants must play second fiddle to needs in his administration. But he asserts there will be no "starvation operation" in order to make a record.

The new governor told cabinet appointees to study needs of their departments and make appropriation requests accordingly. He indicated that such things as mental health, old age benefits and general welfare services will need more money.

DiSalle announced plans to lay a "completely unvarnished picture" of state finances before the Legislature at an early date.

O'Neill will deliver a message to the General Assembly next Tuesday, second day of the new session. He expects to review his accomplishments and suggest a prudent policy for the future.

O'Neill has said he expects some 20 million dollars in deficiency appropriations will be needed for schools, old age pensions and health care but that a small surplus will remain at the end of the fiscal year if economy is practiced. DiSalle has taken exception to the claims.

The outgoing governor also warned that Ohio will have to find more highway money if the year's 400-million-dollar construction rate is to be maintained. O'Neill estimated that only about 250 million will be available for construction.

Democratic platform pledges and administration programs spell big financial trouble for Ohio lawmakers in the coming session, members agree. DiSalle has suggested a short session to take care of house-keeping chores and a later working session, after a recess, to solve the problems. Leaders of both parties have expressed opposition or coolness towards such a course.

They said demands upon the Legislature will keep members busy until the financial knots are unraveled.

Republicans, in the minority for the first time in a decade, indicate they will go along with Democrats in most matters. But they appear determined to oppose what they term excessive spending that would require big boosts in taxes that must come from the pockets of Ohioans.

Other issues such as utility rate formulas, supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB), increased courthouse fees and anti-racketeering laws may touch off fireworks but lawmakers expect the main show to feature finances and taxes.
